When the Chicago and Alton limited passed through enroute to Chicago an hour late, displaying flags on the rear, indicating that a special was following, word was spread and a dense crowd of miners lined the station platform while another crowd collected at the entrance of the stockade a half mile north of the station.

D. B. Kiley, a Chicago and Alton detective, stood guard at a switch to see it was not tampered with.

The special train passed the station and signal shots were fired from the south end of the train announcing the special's arrival. Immediately shots were fired from the moving train and outside and the battle was on.

A few moments after the train had passed the switch, where Kiley was stationed, and while he was talking with two citizens, he threw up his arms and dropped dead with a bullet through his brain. He was the first man killed. The train continued to the stockade, the miners firing into it all along the route and the negro passengers retreating the fire. The moment the train reached the stockade the miners opened a desperate fire with winchesters, revolvers and firearms of all descriptions. The negroes on the train answered with a steady fire. The miners and the train were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and the shooting sounded like a continuous volley.

Engineer Burt Tigar received a bullet in the arm and dropped from his seat. His fireman seized the throttle, pulled it open, and with a jerk the train was under speed, carrying a load of wounded negro passengers to Springfield. How many were wounded is not known. The train stopped at the stockade but two minutes. Its departure did not cause the firing to cease. The tower of the stockade was filled with sharpshooters, armed with winchesters and they kept up a steady fire into the crowd of union miners. Eyewitnesses say the dead miners were killed after the train had departed.

The supply and provision store of the Chicago-Virden Coal company is known as the Climax Trading company, with Superintendent J. F. Eyster in charge. He was sitting in his store when his telephone rang, and he was instructed from the stockade to secure physicians and hurry them to the place. Eyster jumped into his delivery wagon, and, securing two doctors, rushed them to the mines. He returned to his store, climbed out of his wagon and was just entering the door when the cry was raised that Manager Fred Luken of the mines was with him. With a rush a throng of infuriated miners pressed toward the store. Eyster ran behind a counter with a revolver in each hand. The miners pressed hard after, and, as Eyster sprang upstairs, he and the miners began shooting simultaneously.

He ran to the top of the building and jumped behind the chimney, while the miners ran into the street and opened fire on him again. Chips flew from the brick chimney, and Eyster ran from cover across to the roof of another store, firing into the street below as he ran. From there he crept to the roof of the bank of Virden, where he reloaded his revolvers. Blood was flowing from a wound in his side, but, with dogged determination, against terrible odds he continued his flight. Jumping to the roof of the Rae & Gosh drug store, he halted behind a projection from the roof of the building he had just left, and emptied both his six chambered revolvers.

Then springing from cover Eyster dashed ahead amid the rain of bullets to the roof of the Steed building, the upper story of which is known as Miners' hall. He either fell or jumped through the skylight and landed in the arms of a crowd of miners, who seized and carried him down stairs to the street. Other hands seized the almost unconscious man and he was dragged into the middle of the street. Local policemen drove back the crowd and carried Eyster to the city square across the street and laid him on the grass. Eyster was motionless and supposedly dead. The police left him lying and attempted to disperse the crowd.

In a few minutes Eyster was seen to raise his hand and wipe the blood from his face. Two men sprang at him, and, with the ferocity of tigers, began jumping on his body and striking him on the head with stones. With a yell the angry crowd charged into the square to kill Eyster. The police charged in a body and fought their way to the center of the mob, where they took a stand over the prostrate, battered, bleeding man. A carrier was procured and Eyster was taken to the Buckles hotel. He had been shot through the groin and is terribly battered about the head. The physician states that he has barely a chance for recovery.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 13.—The special train on the Chicago and Alton which brought the Alabama negroes from Virden last night had eight wounded men—all deputies except one, who was a colored miner, who was taken to the Springfield city hospital. Of these one man died, William W. Carroll, a deputy sheriff.

John M. Hunter of Pontiac, the president of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America, lies at the Collins House in a critical condition. Mr. Hunter got on the train which bore the colored miners to this city and engaged in conversation with two of the colored miners. Some of the deputy sheriffs saw Hunter, and when the train was between North Grand avenue and the north shaft, and was going at the rate of 18 miles an hour, it is estimated, the deputies attacked Hunter and pushed him off the train.

GOVERNOR RESPONSIBLE.

President of Coal Company Determined to See How Far He Can Evade His Duties.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—President O. W. Loucks of the Chicago-Virden Coal company, who has arrived from the vicinity of the trouble, made the following statement:

"Our position has been defined right along by the press, as the public can ascertain, and we simply desire to state that our employees arrived at Virden about 12:30 today (Wednesday). We stopped the train opposite the gates, so that the men could go from the train into our works, when immediately the mob fired from all directions and, very naturally, our men defended themselves.

The consequences in full we do not know positively as yet.

"As to our future action, we propose to follow in the future as we have in the past, legal procedure in the obtaining of our legal rights and shall take proper steps to secure redress against all who prompted, aided, abetted or participated in the riots of today, whether they are miners, miners' officials, state officials or others. We shall determine before we are through whether the government of this state can class our colored population as ex-convicts, scoundwags, etc., with impunity, and whether the colored citizens of this country can have their rights under the constitution set aside at the whim and pleasure of the government of Illinois. We shall determine for ourselves and others in this state just how far a governor can annul and evade the duties placed upon him by the constitution and statutes of this state."

BLAMED THE OPERATORS.

Gov. Tanner Gave Out a Startling Interview—Will Prevent Importing Laborers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Oct. 13.—Governor Tanner said, when interviewed, that he was confident that there would be no more rioting at Virden. "I have asked the secretary of war to place at my demand the Fifth regiment Illinois volunteers, now at Springfield," he said, "and have ordered four companies of Sons of Veterans' regiment to leave for Virden early in the morning. I intend to have enough troops on the scene to disarm the men who have caused this bloodshed, and furthermore, I intend to take such action as will prevent any further attempt to import labor into this state. I don't intend to have any more trouble of this kind. My advice up to this hour indicate that the first estimates on the number of killed and wounded were too high. I do not believe that the list of dead will exceed 15, if it reaches that. The wounded will probably number less than 30."

EPISCOPAL MEETING.

House of Bishops Favored San Francisco For Next Meeting Place—Church Building Commission.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The house of bishops of the Episcopal convention voted to hold the convention of 1901 at San Francisco.

In the deputies an effort was made to concur in this action, but on objection to immediate consideration, the resolution of the bishops went to the calendar.

The officers elected include the following: President, Rt. Rev. John Williams; vice presidents, Rt. Revs. Henry B. Whipple, William C. Doane, George D. N. Gillespie, Thomas A. Starkey, Cortlandt Whitehead and Bishops Johnson of Los Angeles, Nichols of California and Talbot of Central Pennsylvania; secretary general, James G. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Rev. J. Newton Perkins; treasurer, George C. Thomas of Philadelphia, and assistant treasurer, E. W. Roberts of New York; also a board of 17 trustees.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE.

Pope Appointed Archbishop Chappelle to Cuba—Catholic Archbishops Met.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Cardinal Gibbons, who is here attending the meeting of the archbishops at the Catholic university, received a cablegram from Rome announcing that the pope had appointed Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans as apostolic delegate to Cuba. He will retain his position at New Orleans. He is now in Rome.

The sessions of the archbishops were private. Chappelle, Riordan and Ireland were absent.

At the close of the meeting Archbishop Kain, who acted as secretary, said there was nothing to give to the public, as the proceedings had been confined entirely to the internal affairs of the church. The archbishops completed their work.

TERRORIZED HONOLULU.

Drunken Officers Declared Martial Law. Will Be Courtmartialled.

HONOLULU, Oct. 13.—On the night of Oct. 3, Second Lieutenant Merriam, United States army, son of General Merriam, and First Lieutenant Wheelock, New York volunteers, both being intoxicated, declared martial law in Honolulu. Wheelock was provost marshal, in charge of mounted infantry. For two hours things were lively. Citizens were ordered off the streets. Orders were enforced by mounted men under Wheelock's command.

Sailors were chased aboard their ships and two captains and a customs officer had to scramble for safety. General King was very angry when he heard what was being done. The two officers will be courtmartialled.

John M. Forbes, Sr., Dead.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—John M. Forbes, 3r., president of the board of directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, died at his home in Milton.

PEACE JUBILEE.

President Royally Entertained at the Omaha Exposition.

ABOUT 125,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

The President Made a Speech, In Which He Said We Could Not Shirk Our International Responsibilities—Praise For Our Soldiers and Sailors in the War.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—Not one feature was lacking to make the peace jubilee at the trans-Mississippi exposition an unprecedented success. The weather was delightful, an ideal October day.

The president of the United States has been kept busy acknowledging the most enthusiastic greetings from his western constituents.

Admissions numbered about 125,000.

President McKinley, in the course of his speech, thanked the people of Omaha for his welcome and extended greeting to Omaha, the state of Nebraska and to the people of all the states of the trans-Mississippi group.

"One of the great laws of life is progress, and nowhere have the principles of this law been so strikingly illustrated as in the United States. A century and a decade of our national life have turned doubt into conviction; changed experiment into demonstration; revolutionized old methods and won new triumphs which have challenged the attention of the world. This is true not only of the accumulation of material wealth and advance in education, science, invention and manufactures, but above all in the opportunities to the people for their own elevation, which have been secured by wise free government.

"Hitherto in peace and in war, with additions to our territory and slight changes in our laws, we have steadily enforced the spirit of the constitution secured to us by the noble self-sacrifice and far-seeing sagacity of our ancestors. We have avoided the temptations of conquest in the spirit of gain. With an increasing love for our institutions and an abiding faith in their stability, we have made the triumphs of our system of government in the progress and prosperity of our people an inspiration to the whole human race. Confronted at this moment by new and grave problems, we must recognize that their solution will effect not ourselves alone, but others of the family of nations.

"In this age of frequent interchange and mutual dependency, we cannot shirk our international responsibilities if we would; they must be met with courage and wisdom and we must follow duty even if the desire opposes. No deliberation can be too mature or self-control too constant in this solemn hour of our history. We must avoid the temptation of undue aggression and aim to secure only such results as will promote our own and the general good."

At another point he said:

"On April 25, for the first time for more than a generation, the United States sounded the call to arms. The banners of war were unfurled; the best and bravest from every section responded; a mighty army was enrolled; the north and south vied with each other in patriotic devotion; science was invoked to furnish its most effective weapons; factories were rushed to supply equipments; the youth and the veteran joined in freely offering their services to the country; volunteers and regulars and all the people rallied to the support of the republic."

He then spoke of what we had done with a small navy. Although having a small standing army, we soon mobilized a great force, and $50,000,000 was voted for national defense without debate or division, a mere indication of our mighty reserve power. Then he said in part:

"But if this is true of the beginning of the war what shall we say of it now, with hostilities suspended and peace near at hand, as we fervently hope? Matchless in its results; unequalled in its completeness and the quick succession with which victory followed victory; attained earlier than it was believed to be possible, so comprehensive in its sweep that every thoughtful man feels the weight of its responsibility which has been so suddenly thrust upon us, and above all and beyond all the valor of the American army and the bravery of the American navy and the majesty of the American name stand forth in unsullied glory, while the humanity of our purposes and the magnanimity of our conduct have given to war, always horrible, touches of noble generosity, Christian sympathy and charity, and examples of human grandeur which can never be lost to mankind."

MASO TO VISIT MANZANILLO.

The People Seemingly Enthusiastic Over American Occupation.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Manzanillo to the office of The Associated Press here says now that the Cuban element has come to the surface. The people are seemingly enthusiastic. The mayor and collector had both received instructions not to turn over their offices to the Americans except under protest and in the presence of the consul and a notary, but Colonel Ray suspended them. Not a cent was found in the treasury.

President Maso of the insurgent government is to visit the city.

COMMISSIONS ENTERTAINED.

A Paris Newspaper Gave a Theatrical Entertainment.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The American peace commission has engaged in its first function outside of purely diplomatic lines. The Figaro entertained the members of both commissions with a stage performance, in which Coquelin, Loie Fuller and others took part.

The occasion was informal and pleasing.

TO MOVE SOUTHWARD.

Second Corps Expected to Commence Leaving Camp Meade Oct. 27.

Sick Soldiers Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Oct. 13.—When General Graham returns from Washington he will bring with him the official orders as to the representation at Philadelphia during the peace jubilee. If permission is granted by the war department General Young's division will be sent to Philadelphia and from there south.

General Graham will confer with his staff upon his return regarding the plans for moving the troops. As the other army corps are to move at the same time it is thought that one regiment a day will be all that can be sent from Camp Meade, as the orders from Washington are that only one regiment shall reach the new camp each day. The second corps is expected to commence moving Oct. 27.

Colonel Girard sent 24 sick soldiers to leading hospitals and 24 more to Harrisburg and Lebanon hospitals.

General Graham has issued an order that no more furloughs will be granted to enlisted men until after the movement of the corps. The men in hospitals who are able to travel alone will be furloughed for 30 days on recommendation of the hospital surgeons.

Corporal Samuel McCamant, Company D, Eighth Pennsylvania, a son of ex-Auditor General McCamant, is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home in Harrisburg.

A large donation from Providence, R. I., contributed through the Ladies' War Relief of Rhode Island, reached the Harrisburg hospital.

GRAHAM TESTIFIED.

Had No Complaint to Make of the Conduct of the War Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Before the war investigating board General Graham, now in command at Camp Meade, stated that he had no complaint to make as to the management of the war department, but he thought the war was such an emergency that the department was not at first prepared to meet its demands as promptly as desirable.

He believed that the proximity of the tents to one another at Camp Alger was responsible more than any other cause for the sickness there, and he said that the medical officers also were of this opinion. He thought the want of water for bathing purposes and the habits of the men in eating other food than that prescribed by the regulations had had a deleterious influence.

General Graham stated that, while commissary supplies were plentiful, the men were often in need because the regimental officers were not sufficiently impressed with the importance of drawing their food.

Taking it all in all, General Graham said he had no doubt that the medical department at Camp Alger was administered in a competent manner. With the reforms inaugurated Camp Alger would have been very healthful and the removal to Camp Meade was largely sentimental and in obedience to public clamor. He declared Camp Meade to be an ideal camp and well supplied.

He said he would recommend that in the future there should be regular officers in all volunteer regiments; that camps should be farther apart; that arrangements should be made for cremating all effete matter. He stated that some of the officers from civil life had proved efficient, but that others were incorrigible. Some of them were too old to learn.

KNIGHTS DRILLED.

About 20,000 Saw Them at Pittsburgh Banquet to Grand Master Thomas.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—About 20,000 people saw Knights Templar commanderies drill at Schenley Park. Those participating were: Louisville No. 1, St. Bernard of Chicago and Damascus of Detroit. A handsome silk banner was presented to each.

A great banquet was tendered Grand Master Thomas last night.

Weather Forecast.

Showers; fresh to brisk southeast winds.

know positively as yet.

"As to our future action, we propose to follow in the future as we have in the past, legal procedure in the obtaining of our legal rights and shall take proper steps to secure redress against all who prompted, aided, abetted or participated in the riots of today, whether they are miners, miners' officials, state officials or others. We shall determine before we are through whether the government of this state can class our colored population as ex-convicts, scoundwags, etc., with impunity, and whether the colored citizens of this country can have their rights under the constitution set aside at the whim and pleasure of the government of Illinois. We shall determine for ourselves and others in this state just how far a governor can annul and evade the duties placed upon him by the constitution and statutes of this state."

BLAMED THE OPERATORS.

Gov. Tanner Gave Out a Startling Interview—Will Prevent Importing Laborers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Oct. 13.—Governor Tanner said, when interviewed, that he was confident that there would be no more rioting at Virden. "I have asked the secretary of war to place at my demand the Fifth regiment Illinois volunteers, now at Springfield," he said, "and have ordered four companies of Sons of Veterans' regiment to leave for Virden early in the morning. I intend to have enough troops on the scene to disarm the men who have caused this bloodshed, and furthermore, I intend to take such action as will prevent any further attempt to import labor into this state. I don't intend to have any more trouble of this kind. My advice up to this hour indicate that the first estimates on the number of killed and wounded were too high. I do not believe that the list of dead will exceed 15, if it reaches that. The wounded will probably number less than 30."

House of Bishops Favored San Francisco
For Next Meeting Place—Church Building Commission.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The house of bishops of the Episcopal convention voted to hold the convention of 1901 at San Francisco.

In the deputies an effort was made to concur in this action, but on objection to immediate consideration, the resolution of the bishops went to the calendar.
Incidental to the convention was a meeting of the American church building fund commission. The annual report showed that its fund amounts to $343,800, an increase during the last three years of $68,000.

The officers elected include the following: President, Rt. Rev. John Williams; vice presidents, Rt. Revs. Henry B. Whipple, William C. Doane, George
D. N. Gillespie, Thomas A. Starkey, Cortlandt Whitehead and Bishops Johnson of Los Angeles, Nichols of California and Talbot of Central Pennsylvania; secretary general, James G.
Wilson; corresponding secretary, Rev.
J. Newton Perkins; treasurer, George C. Thomas of Philadelphia, and assistant treasurer, E. W. Roberts of New York; also a board of 17 trustees.

Pope Appointed Archbishop Chappelle to Cuba—Catholic Archbishops Met.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Cardinal Gibbons, who is here attending the meeting of the archbishops at the Catholic university, received a cablegram from Rome announcing that the pope had appointed Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans as apostolic delegate to Cuba. He will retain his position at New Orleans. He is now in Rome.

The sessions of the archbishops were private. Chappelle, Riordan and Ireland were absent.

At the close of the meeting Archbishop Kain, who acted as secretary, said there was nothing to give to the public, as the proceedings had been confined entirely to the internal affairs of the church. The archbishops completed their work.

Drunken Officers Declared Martial Law.
Will Be Courtmartialled.

HONOLULU, Oct. 13.—On the night of
Oct. 3, Second Lieutenant Merriam, United States army, son of General Merriam, and First Lieutenant Wheelock, New York volunteers, both being intoxicated, declared martial law in Honolulu. Wheelock was provost marshal, in charge of mounted infantry. For two hours things were lively. Citizens were ordered off the streets. Orders were enforced by mounted men under Wheelock's command.

Sailors were chased aboard their ships and two captains and a customs officer had to scramble for safety. General King was very angry when he heard what was being done. The two officers will be courtmartialled.

John M. Forbes, Sr., Dead.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—John M. Forbes, 3r., president of the board of directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, died at his home in Milton.

President Royally Entertained
at the Omaha Exposition.

ABOUT 125,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

The President Made a Speech, In Which He Said We Could Not Shirk Our International Responsibilities—Praise For Our Soldiers and Sailors in the War.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—Not one feature was lacking to make the peace jubilee at the trans-Mississippi exposition an unprecedented success. The weather was delightful, an ideal October day.

The president of the United States has been kept busy acknowledging the most enthusiastic greetings from his western constituents.

Admissions numbered about 125,000.
President McKinley, in the course of his speech, thanked the people of Omaha for his welcome and extended greeting to Omaha, the state of Nebraska and to the people of all the states of the trans-Mississippi group.

"One of the great laws of life is progress, and nowhere have the principles of this law been so strikingly illustrated as in the United States. A century and a decade of our national life have turned doubt into conviction; changed experiment into demonstration; revolutionized old methods and won new triumphs which have challenged the attention of the world. This is true not only of the accumulation of material wealth and advance in education, science, invention and manufactures, but above all in the opportunities to the people for their own elevation, which have been secured by wise free government.

"Hitherto in peace and in war, with additions to our territory and slight changes in our laws, we have steadily enforced the spirit of the constitution secured to us by the noble self-sacrifice and far-seeing sagacity of our ancestors. We have avoided the temptations of conquest in the spirit of gain. With an increasing love for our institutions and an abiding faith in their stability, we have made the triumphs of our system of government in the progress and prosperity of our people an inspiration to the whole human race. Confronted at this moment by new and grave problems, we must recognize that their solution will effect not ourselves alone, but others of the family of nations.

"In this age of frequent interchange and mutual dependency, we cannot shirk our international responsibilities if we would; they must be met with courage and wisdom and we must follow duty even if the desire opposes. No deliberation can be too mature or self control too constant in this solemn hour of our history. We must avoid the temptation of undue aggression and aim to secure only such results as will promote our own and the general good."

At another point he said:

"On April 25, for the first time for more than a generation, the United States sounded the call to arms. The banners of war were unfurled; the best and bravest from every section responded; a mighty army was enrolled;
the north and south vied with each other in patriotic devotion; science was invoked to furnish its most effective weapons; factories were rushed to supply equipments; the youth and the veteran joined in freely offering their services to the country; volunteers and regulars and all the people rallied to the support of the republic."

He then spoke of what we had done with a small navy. Although having a small standing army, we soon mobilized a great force, and $50,000,000 was voted for national defense without debate or division, a mere indication of our mighty reserve power. Then he said in part:

"But if this is true of the beginning of the war what shall we say of it now, with hostilities suspended and peace near at hand, as we fervently hope?
Matchless in its results; unequalled in its completeness and the quick succession with which victory followed victory; attained earlier than it was believed to be possible, so comprehensive in its sweep that every thoughtful man feels the weight of its responsibility which has been so suddenly thrust upon us, and above all and beyond all the valor of the American army and the bravery of the American navy and the majesty of the American name stand forth in unsullied glory, while the humanity of our purposes and the magnanimity of our conduct have given to war, always horrible, touches of noble generosity, Christian sympathy and charity, and examples of human grandeur which can never be lost to mankind.

"The heroes of Manila and Santiago and Porto Rico have made immortal history. They are worthy successors and descendants of Washington and Greene, of Paul Jones, Decatur and Hull, and of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Logan; of Farragut, Porter and Cushing, and of Lee, Jackson and Longstreet. New names stand out on the honor roll of the nation's great men and with them unnam'd stand the heroes of the trenches and fortresses, invincible in battle and uncompromising in death."

MASO TO VISIT MANZANILLO.

The People Seemingly Enthusiastic Over American Occupation.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Manzanillo to the office of The Associated Press here says now that the American flag is flying over the city the Cuban element has come to the surface. The people are seemingly enthusiastic. The mayor and collector had both received instructions not to turn over their offices to the Americans except under protest and in the presence of the consul and a notary, but Colonel Ray suspended them. Not a cent was found in the treasury.

President Maso of the insurgent government is to visit the city.

A Paris Newspaper Gave a Theatrical Entertainment.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The American peace commission has engaged in its first function outside of purely diplomatic lines. The Figaro entertained the members of both commissions with a stage performance, in which Coquelin, Loie Fuller and others took part.

The occasion was informal and pleasing.

Second Corps Expected to Commence Leaving Camp Meade Oct. 27.

Sick Soldiers Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Oct.
13.—When General Graham returns from Washington he will bring with him the official orders as to the representation at Philadelphia during the peace jubilee. If permission is granted by the war department General Young's division will be sent to Philadelphia and from there south.

General Graham will confer with his staff upon his return regarding the plans for moving the troops. As the other army corps are to move at the same time it is thought that one regiment a day will be all that can be sent from Camp Meade, as the orders from Washington are that only one regiment shall reach the new camp each day.
The Second corps is expected to commence moving Oct. 27.

Colonel Girard sent 24 sick soldiers to leading hospitals and 24 more to Harrissburg and Lebanon hospitals.

General Graham has issued an order that no more furloughs will be granted to enlisted men until after the movement of the corps. The men in hospitals who are able to travel alone will be furloughed for 30 days on recommendation of the hospital surgeons.

Corporal Samuel McCamant, Company D, Eighth Pennsylvania, a son of ex-Auditor General McCamant, is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home in Harrisburg.

A large donation from Providence,
R. I., contributed through the Ladies' War Relief of Rhode Island, reached the Harrisburg hospital.

GRAHAM TESTIFIED.

Had No Complaint to Make of the Conduct of the War Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Before the war investigating board General Graham, now in command at Camp Meade, stated that he had no complaint to make as to the management of the war department, but he thought the war was such an emergency that the department was not at first prepared to meet its demands as promptly as desirable.

He believed that the proximity of the tents to one another at Camp Alger was responsible more than any other cause for the sickness there, and he said that the medical officers also were of this opinion. He thought the want of water for bathing purposes and the habits of the men in eating other food than that prescribed by the regulations had had a deleterious influence.

General Graham stated that, while commissary supplies were plentiful, the men were often in need because the regimental officers were not sufficiently impressed with the importance of drawing their food.

Taking it all in all, General Graham said he had no doubt that the medical department at Camp Alger was administered in a competent manner. With the reforms inaugurated Camp Alger would have been very healthful and the removal to Camp Meade was largely sentimental and in obedience to public clamor. He declared Camp Meade to be an ideal camp and well supplied.

He said he would recommend that in the future there should be regular officers in all volunteer regiments; that camps should be farther apart; that arrangements should be made for cra-minating all effete matter. He stated that some of the officers from civil life had proved efficient, but that others were incorrigible. Some of them were too old to learn.

KNIGHTS DRILLED.

About 20,000 Saw Them at Pittsburgh
Banquet to Grand Master

Thomas.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—About 20,000 people saw Knights Templar commanderies drill at Schenley Park. Those participating were: Louisville No. 1, St.
Bernard of Chicago and Damascus of Detroit. A handsome silk banner was presented to each.

A great banquet was tendered Grand Master Thomas last night.

Weather Forecast.

Showers; fresh to brisk southeast

MORMONS ARE AT WORK

Two of Them Visiting In West End.

A YELLOW CREEK EPISODE

Recalled by the Presence of the Evangelists--They Talk Much Concerning the Church They Represent, and Distribute Literature--All the News.

Two very smooth individuals are visiting homes in the West End. They have a clerical look and introduce themselves invariably as evangelists of the church of Latter Day Saints. These are probably the same parties who have been working throughout the surrounding country.

They endeavored to get leave to preach in the various school houses, but in no case succeeded, except at Yellow Creek, where, it is said, the people were so indignant that the preachers thought it best for their health to leave. These individuals exhibit and leave literature with the women of the house, and, by the way, it is invariably the women of the house who are visited during the hours when the men are necessarily absent. The literature reads all right, and, of course, no mention is made of the peculiar and unique feature of the Mormon church. It would seem that the West End is more than usually afflicted with people of peculiar views.

Scarlet Fever.

Health Officer Warren says there are no more cases of diphtheria reported. As every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the disease, it is safe to conclude that there will be no great number of cases.

The three cases so far reported have been isolated cases and in different parts of town.

The News of Wellsville.

Miss Kate Kerr has returned from her trip to Pittsburg.

Mrs. L. E. Hoskins, of Irondale, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. M. N. Russell, who has been visiting Mrs. Steven Smith, corner of Ninth and Center streets, returned yesterday to her home in Jefferson county.

Miss Effie Worthington, who has been visiting Mrs. F. J. Riley, left yesterday afternoon for her home in Brilliant.

Miss Lucy Evans went out to her home in Irondale yesterday afternoon.

Miss Florence Smith, of Inverness, is visiting her brother, Frank Smith.

Miss Tillie Watson, who has been visiting relatives in town and in this vicinity for the past month, returned to her home in Osceola, Iowa, today.

T. P. Dolan, who has been under the doctors care for the past few days, was able to report for duty yesterday.

Miss Cal Bowers, Miss Marv Noss and G. D. Lowry went to Pittsburg this morning.

D. F. Smith, Broadway, has returned to his home after a month's stay at the state hospital in Massillon. He was much benefited in some ways by the treatment which he received while there but is yet very feeble in regard to his general health.

Miss Annie Lawrence, of Hammondsville, who has been visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Orr, returned home yesterday.

G. F. McCready, of the Scotch settlement, who has been attending the convalescence in Pittsburg since Monday, returned home yesterday evening.

Rev. N. K. Crowe is in town this week on business.

Mrs. Thomas McCombs, of Wattsville; Mrs. Mary McPherson and Miss Ida McQuoid, of Gavers, who have been the guests of J. M. Leclerc, returned to their homes today.

Mrs. M. S. Carroll went to Hammondsville to visit friends today.

Dr. Robert McCready, of the East End, Pittsburg, came down on the morning train to visit his brother, G. F. McCready, for a few days.

Rev. A. O. Jones is organizing a boys' choir in the Church of the Ascension. During the time of the former pastor, Reverend Williams, a flourishing choir was organized, but it finally went to pieces. Now, however, the prospects for a good choir of boy singers is most encouraging.

May Play Against Toronto.

Manager Reark, of the Rugby football team, will endeavor to book a game with the Toronto team to be played here one week from next Saturday.

The local team will practice considerably before the game, and expect to present a much stronger team than they had in the game with Monaca.

This week we received our second big shipment of fur collarettes and fur trimmings by the yard. The collarettes are priced at from $2 to $25, with all between prices, and the fur trimmings at from 25c to $1.50 a yard. A customer has to be very hard to suit not to find what she wants in this stock.

NEW SHIRT WAISTS AND SEPARATE SKIRTS.

We are adding daily to this stock. You want to see what has been received this week in new flannel waists, silk, satin and velvet waists; also the new separate skirts in silk, satin and serge, with the new flounce. The waists run from $1 to $7.50 each, and the skirts from $3.50 to $12.50.

NEW SILKS AND DRESS GOODS.

THIS is a great season on fancy silks. Another big lot just received, perfect beauties. Priced at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard. Exclusive styles. New black crepons, colored coverts and Venetian cloths received this week. If you don't see what you want in our store ask for it--we have it--the right thing at the right price.

What the Leading Democratic Paper of Ohio Says About It.

The doubt about what to do with the Philippine Islands remains. Our commanding attitude toward them was part of the general condition that brought about the signing of the protocol, under which a peace commission is now at work. It became necessary to hold what we gained by force pending a settlement with Spain. That settlement has not been made.

No American worthy the name--no man in whose veins runs patriotic blood--can restrain pride in the commanding position now occupied by the United States. We have taken a place not simply as one of the great nations, but also of one of the great powers of the world. If we desire we can step in and become a party to the dismemberment of empires, and a partner with the most powerful nations of Europe in the wholesale revision of maps. We can open up new countries for our surplus enterprise and stimulate our shipbuilding and commerce. We can have a tremendous colonial and provincial policy, and make the stars and stripes close to a home port in every sea of the world.

We have come to a crucial moment in the history of the greatest republic of time. We have rescued Cuba and acquired Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands; but all that is in keeping with the home policy, if we may so call it, that was encouraged by the fathers and that has been pursued through nearly a century and a quarter of history. So far we have fulfilled destiny, and done it not too rapidly. To go further is the inspiration of one day's battle, not the learning that comes from protracted study of grave questions. A very solemn proposition is now in the hands of the president of the United States and the peace commissioners appointed by him. It will be their duty to examine the current question in the light of reason as well as patriotism. It will be their obligation to weigh carefully the popular sentiment, and at the same time to give cold-blooded consideration to such objections as there may be to the acquisition of the Philippines.--Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.).

Jeffersonian Bimetallism.

The Boston Herald calls attention to the fact that the new discovery of Jeffersonian bimetalism, adopted as a subterfuge by some Democrats, has a weak foundation to rest upon. The father of Democracy might have believed in the silver dollar, but when he had control of national affairs he didn't turn out very many of the white cart wheels. During his first four years the mints coined but 144,738 silver dollars, and during his second term he seems to have been so thoroughly disgusted that he was responsible for just 321 white stove lids. These were turned out in 1805, and if Other islands in the Caribbean over which the Spanish flag has floated for centuries will come to us unconditionally.

This is quite a triumph for expansion and ought to satisfy the most greedy expansionist. On the Pacific side we have the Sandwich Islands, it is any satisfaction to the white metallists they can take these dollars, if they can find them, and get from $1,000 to $5,000 for each and every one. But during 1806, 1807 and 1808 not a single silver dollar came from the mints. The white metal Democrats will have to find some other excuse for their vagaries. --Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune (Rep.).

There are said to be fewer suicides among miners than among any other class of workmen.

WELLSVILLE.

MORMONS ARE AT WORK

Two of Them Visiting In West End.

A YELLOW CREEK EPISODE

Recalled by the Presence of the Evangelists--They Talk Much Concerning the Church They Represent, and Distribute Literature--All the News.

Two very smooth individuals are visiting homes in the West End. They have a clerical look and introduce themselves invariably as evangelists of the church of Latter Day Saints. These are probably the same parties who have been working throughout the surrounding country.

They endeavored to get leave to preach in the various school houses, but in no case succeeded, except at Yellow Creek, where, it is said, the people were so indignant that the preachers thought it best for their health to leave. These individuals exhibit and leave literature with the women of the house, and, by the way, it is invariably the women of the house who are visited during the hours when the men are necessarily absent. The literature reads all right, and, of course, no mention is made of the peculiar and unique feature of the Mormon church. It would seem that the West End is more than usually afflicted with people of peculiar views.

Scarlet Fever.

Health Officer Warren says there are no more cases of diphtheria reported. As every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the disease, it is safe to conclude that there will be no great number of cases.

The three cases so far reported have been isolated cases and in different parts of town.

The News of Wellsville.

Miss Kate Kerr has returned from her trip to Pittsburg.

Mrs. L. E. Hoskins, of Irondale, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. M. N. Russell, who has been visiting Mrs. Steven Smith, corner of Ninth and Center streets, returned yesterday to her home in Jefferson county.

Miss Effie Worthington, who has been visiting Mrs. F. J. Riley, left yesterday afternoon for her home in Brilliant.

Miss Lucy Evans went out to her home in Irondale yesterday afternoon.

Miss Florence Smith, of Inverness, is visiting her brother, Frank Smith.

Miss Tillie Watson, who has been visiting relatives in town and in this vicinity for the past month, returned to her home in Osceola, Iowa, today.

T. P. Dolan, who has been under the doctors care for the past few days, was able to report for duty yesterday.

Miss Cal Bowers, Miss Marv Noss and G. D. Lowry went to Pittsburg this morning.

D. F. Smith, Broadway, has returned to his home after a month's stay at the state hospital in Massillon. He was much benefited in some ways by the treatment which he received while there but is yet very feeble in regard to his general health.

Miss Annie Lawrence, of Hammondsville, who has been visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Orr, returned home yesterday.

G. F. McCready, of the Scotch settlement, who has been attending the convalescence in Pittsburg since Monday, returned home yesterday evening.

Rev. N. K. Crowe is in town this week on business.

Mrs. Thomas McCombs, of Wattsville; Mrs. Mary McPherson and Miss Ida McQuoid, of Gavers, who have been the guests of J. M. Leclerc, returned to their homes today.

Mrs. M. S. Carroll went to Hammondsville to visit friends today.

Dr. Robert McCready, of the East End, Pittsburg, came down on the morning train to visit his brother, G. F. McCready, for a few days.

Rev. A. C. Jones is organizing a boys' choir in the Church of the Ascension. During the time of the former pastor, Reverend Williams, a flourishing choir was organized, but it finally went to pieces. Now, however, the prospects for a good choir of boy singers is most encouraging.

May Play Against Toronto.

Manager Reark, of the Rugby football team, will endeavor to book a game with the Toronto team to be played here one week from next Saturday.

The local team will practice considerably before the game, and expect to present a much stronger team than they had in the game with Monaca.

MR. ROCKAFELLER may believe he has beaten the state of Ohio in his endeavor to show that the Standard Oil company does not come under the anti-trust law, but there have been men equally as brainy who made the same mistake.

It is gratifying to know that Ohio Republicans are entering heartily into the spirit of the campaign, and the best meetings known for several years are being held. But these same enthusiastic Republicans should not forget that to win the victory they must go to the polls and vote.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's address at the Omaha exposition was no disappointment. He dared to touch upon important matters, and said what his friends throughout the country expected him to say. His reference to the acquisition of territory showed that he is thoroughly acquainted with the facts, and his tribute to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy deserved the tremendous outburst of applause it received.

A LOSING FIGHT.

The Democrats are fighting Hon. R.
W. Taylor on the sole ground that when the war came on he did not at once resign his seat in congress and enter the army.

They lose sight of the fact that all the good men of the country did not volunteer when President McKinley called for aid. Doubtless some of the newspaper writers who are now so earnestly abusing Mr. Taylor never thought of going to the front, excusing themselves on the ground that their business affairs would not then permit them to take up arms.

Mr. Taylor served his country well.
He had been elected to congress for the purpose of voicing the sentiment of a great many people, and his duty was there. No one can say he did not perform that duty. He stood by the administration during the entire time, proving himself worthy of the trust imposed in him by his constituents.
There is no attempt to detract from the meritorious services of Major Weybrecht, nor to belittle the position he gained as an officer of the Eighth, but it must not be forgotten that Mr. Taylor was at the same time not only doing his duty, but was working with might and main to uphold and maintain the patriotic policy of President McKinley.

Knights Templars Delighted
With the Conclave.

PILGRIMS HAVE COME HOME

Others Will Follow This Afternoon and
This Evening, and by Tomorrow All Will Be Here—Not One Complaint of Treatment.

A number of Knights Templars of Pilgrim Commandery, have returned from Pittsburgh well satisfied with the conclave. They had intended staying longer, but the three days made up a continuous round of pleasure, and some Knights believed they had enjoyed it to their capacity. A number returned yesterday afternoon, more early in the evening and a still larger number at night.

All are enthusiastic over the treatment they received, and say no city could have done better than Pittsburg.
The arrangements were perfect, and the social functions passed off to the satisfaction of all.

"Pilgrim commandery enjoyed it.
That's all we can say" said a leading member today. "We came home not because we could not enjoy the remainder of the time, but because we are mortal and flesh and bone will give in under such bounteous hospitality."

A number of Pilgrims are still in the city, and will remain there tomorrow.
Room 10, courthouse, used by the local commandery as headquarters, will be vacated tomorrow night.

All returning Knights have many exchange badges from other commanderies.
Liverpool's representation had handsome gold emblems of the order to give in exchange, while a large number of small pitchers, handsomely decorated, were given out.

DURING THE WINTER

Will Cars Be Run to West Virginia Side.

"The street railway company will run a car on the Virginia branch all winter" is the information that was given out by one of the officials last night.

The idea of running the cars over the line has been under consideration by the company for some time, but no definite conclusion was reached until recently. The cars will run, it is thought, from 8 o'clock in the morning until the same hour at night. The present schedule is from 12 noon till 11 o'clock at night.

THE SOLDIERS

Are Invited to Attend Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. M. Crowe, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, East End, has invited the officers and soldiers of Company E to attend services next Sunday evening. He hopes as many as possible can will be there.

The Grand Army and Sons of Veterans are also asked to attend. A sermon especially adapted to the occasion will be delivered.

Remember the elocutionary recital at Junior Mechanics' hall, over postoffice, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18.

and very often no more is needed.

One dose of Tonsiline relieves the pain in the worst case of Sore Mouth and cures inside of 24 hours.

LOOKING FOR HORSES.

Fire Committee of Council Will Soon Buy a Good Team.

The fire committee of council are at present looking for a good team for the East End, and as soon as they can purchase horses that will be satisfactory at a reasonable figure they will be placed in that department.

An effort will be made to have the new department in perfect running order before the next meeting of council, and the only thing that remains to be done is the selection of the man to have charge of the place.

IN CUBA.

John B. Hoefgen Was There on Important Business.

When John B. Hoefgen, manager of the street railway, left the city a few weeks ago he did not say where he was going, but it has since been learned that he went to Cuba.

The gentleman's well known desire for investment prompts the belief that his journey was not altogether one of pleasure.

SPECTATORS INTERFERED

And a Man and Woman, Quarreling In a Saloon, Did Not Fight.

Last evening a wordy war occurred in an uptown saloon between a man and woman, and a large number of people congregated on the outside to hear the discussion. The man seemed to be very drunk and the woman threatened to give him a thrashing, but spectators interfered before they came to blows.

WARREN'S POTTERY

The Company Is Capitalized at $100,000.

A press dispatch from Warren says:
"The Brewer Pottery company, which will erect a large establishment near this city, yesterday elected these officers: President, Mungo Brownlee; vice president and secretary, George P. Pred-more; treasurer, S. W. Sigler. The company is capitalized at $100,000."

On the River.

Although the rain of Tuesday was heavy enough up the Allegheny to cause a rise, it will not come, because of the sudden cold snap yesterday. At the wharf this morning the stage was 3.3 feet and falling.

The low water has had a bad effect on Liverpool to some extent. It has been learned that several owners of small packets about Pittsburg had contracted to bring excursions to Liverpool during the conclave and were unable to do so on account of the low stages which have prevailed during the week.

Boats Not Far Away.

It is said that many of the boats plying on the Ohio river are within 12 hours run from Pittsburg. Several of the larger boats are now at Wheeling.
They will all start north as soon as there is a few feet more of water.

Prominent Englishman Dead.

Word was received in this city yesterday of the death of John Smith at Youngstown. Mr. Smith was known to many in this place, and was born in Staffordshire. He was a contractor and an officer in the Sons of St. George.

Only a Farmer's Daughter.

The Tommy Shearer company last evening presented the "Waif of the Mines." The play was first class in every particular, and the specialties introduced between acts were thoroughly up to date. Tonight, "Only a Farmer's Daughter" will be played.

Wants a Shed Removed.

Mayor Bough wants the old shed in the rear of city hall disposed of. The mayor's office has a peculiar odor connected with it, caused by the dampness in the shed, and a request for its removal may be made to council in the near future.

Read Cohen's Ad.

Don't fail to read Cohen's ad in tomorrow's issue of the NEWS REVIEW. It is a clear story of the many bargains to be found in his splendid store in the Diamond, and all persons who buy clothing and gents' furnishings are certainly interested.

SOME CANNOT AFFORD

To Contribute to the Lafayette Fund

AND IT CAUSES OBJECTION

To That Part of the Program For the Proposed Celebration—Educators In Other Parts of the Country Take the Same Stand on the Matter.

The matter of collecting money in the public schools for the purpose of aiding in the erection of a monument at Paris to General Lafayette is causing no end of discussion throughout the country, and East Liverpool is no exception. A prominent resident of the city agrees that no right minded person objects to the erection of a monument to the noble hero, but shows that thousands of school children cannot afford to contribute to any cause. The following article in support of that position is taken from the New England Journal of Education:

"This is Lafayette's year. The schools will do well to have appropriate exercises some time before June. His service to America entitles him to the appreciative recognition of the schools.
But this does not carry with it an endorsement of attempt to raise a fund.

"There is a well promoted scheme for the raising of a fund for a Lafayette monument in Paris by the school children of the United States. It is ingra-tious to oppose so well intentioned a plan is this, but the Journal does not believe in this method of raising funds.
There is running parallel with this a plan to raise money in the schools for a United States naval vessel to take the place of the Maine. Assuming that these two are all right, that every dollar raised will go for the objects designated, it opens the way for no end of mischiefs.

"Every grand, philanthropic scheme for raising money by such collections that we have taken the trouble to look into directs a considerable part of the funds into the pockets of the canvassers or is expended in printing, office rent, and postage stamps. There are many men and women whose whole business is the launching of schemes for collecting money for good causes for the purpose of getting a living out of promoting the plan.

"This is probably not the purpose of either of these movements, but it is possible that quite a portion of the money given by the children will go into traveling expenses, postage, printing, stationery, clerical services and office hire.
If not in these cases, their success would tempt the professional promoters of philanthropic schemes for selfish purposes to invade the schools like an army.
The whole thing is dangerous."

Captain Hill Is Today Calling on Colonel Hard.

Capt. W. M. Hill left today for Wooster, where he has been summoned by Colonel Hard.

It is understood his visit is in regard to arrangements to be made for the mustering out of the regiment, but Captain Hill will give no opinion as to why he has been called. Many of the boys of the company are expressing an opinion that they do not believe they will be mustered out for a few months at least.

NEW CARS.

They Have Been Shipped and Will Soon Be Here.

The new winter cars ordered by the company in this city from a firm in St.
Louis were shipped from the factory
Monday afternoon last. They are now expected to arrive in the lower yards not later than next Wednesday.

It will take but a short time to change the motors, and they will be running by the last of next week.

No Business This Morning.

No arrests were made during last night or this morning and as a result marked quiet prevailed about city hall today. Mayor Bough was not in his office, and the jail door, wide open, was a sure sign that nothing was being done.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, OCT. 13.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For secretary of state, Charles Kinney.
For Judge of the Supreme Court, Judge W. T. Spear.
For clerk of the Supreme Court, Josiah B. Allen.
For member Board of Public Works, W. G. Johnston.
For dairy and food commissioner, Joseph C. Blackburn.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT TICKET.

For representative in Congress from the Eighteenth Ohio district, Robert W. Taylor of Lisbon.

REPUBLICAN JUDICIAL TICKET.

For Judge of the Circuit Court of the Seventh Judicial district, P. A. Laubie of Salem.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

For auditor of Columbiana county, J. Frank Adams of Lisbon.
For county commissioner, J. H. French of Salem.
For infirmity director, J. M. McBride of Gavers.
For coroner, John L. Straughn of Lisbon.

MR. ROCKAFELLER may believe he has beaten the state of Ohio in his endeavor to show that the Standard Oil company does not come under the anti-trust law, but there have been men equally as brainy who made the same mistake.

It is gratifying to know that Ohio Republicans are entering heartily into the spirit of the campaign, and the best meetings known for several years are being held. But these same enthusiastic Republicans should not forget that to win the victory they must go to the polls and vote.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S address at the Omaha exposition was no disappointment. He dared to touch upon important matters, and said what his friends throughout the country expected him to say. His reference to the acquisition of territory showed that he is thoroughly acquainted with the facts, and his tribute to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy deserved the tremendous outburst of applause it received.

A LOSING FIGHT.

The Democrats are fighting Hon. R. W. Taylor on the sole ground that when the war came on he did not at once resign his seat in congress and enter the army.

They lose sight of the fact that all the good men of the country did not volunteer when President McKinley called for aid. Doubtless some of the newspaper writers who are now so earnestly abusing Mr. Taylor never thought of going to the front, excusing themselves on the ground that their business affairs would not then permit them to take up arms.

Mr. Taylor served his country well. He had been elected to congress for the purpose of voicing the sentiment of a great many people, and his duty was there. No one can say he did not perform that duty. He stood by the administration during the entire time, proving himself worthy of the trust imposed in him by his constituents. There is no attempt to detract from the meritorious services of Major Weybrecht, nor to belittle the position he gained as an officer of the Eighth, but it must not be forgotten that Mr. Taylor was at the same time not only doing his duty, but was working with might and main to uphold and maintain the patriotic policy of President McKinley.

Knights Templars Delighted With the Conclave.

Others Will Follow This Afternoon and This Evening, and by Tomorrow All Will Be Here—Not One Complaint of Treatment.

A number of Knights Templars of Pilgrim Commandery, have returned from Pittsburg well satisfied with the conclave. They had intended staying longer, but the three days made up a continuous round of pleasure, and some Knights believed they had enjoyed it to their capacity. A number returned yesterday afternoon, more early in the evening and a still larger number at night.

All are enthusiastic over the treatment they received, and say no city could have done better than Pittsburg. The arrangements were perfect, and the social functions passed off to the satisfaction of all.

"Pilgrim commandery enjoyed it. That's all we can say" said a leading member today. "We came home not because we could not enjoy the remainder of the time, but because we are mortal and flesh and bone will give in under such bounteous hospitality."

A number of Pilgrims are still in the city, and will remain there tomorrow. Room 10, courthouse, used by the local commandery as headquarters, will be vacated tomorrow night.

All returning Knights have many exchange badges from other commanderies. Liverpool's representation had handsome gold emblems of the order to give in exchange, while a large number of small pitchers, handsomely decorated, were given out.

DURING THE WINTER

Will Cars Be Run to West Virginia Side.

"The street railway company will run a car on the Virginia branch all winter" is the information that was given out by one of the officials last night.

The idea of running the cars over the line has been under consideration by the company for some time, but no definite conclusion was reached until recently. The cars will run, it is thought, from 8 o'clock in the morning until the same hour at night. The present schedule is from 12 noon till 11 o'clock at night.

THE SOLDIERS

Are Invited to Attend Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. M. Crowe, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, East End, has invited the officers and soldiers of Company E to attend services next Sunday evening. He hopes as many as possible can will be there.

The Grand Army and Sons of Veterans are also asked to attend. A sermon especially adapted to the occasion will be delivered.

Remember the eloquent recital at Junior Mechanics' hall, over postoffice, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18.

Sore Throat

whether lasting or not,

Depends on how soon you use

Tonsiline.

If you have Tonsiline at hand at the first approach of Sore Throat, a single dose checks the advance of the disease and very often no more is needed.

One dose of Tonsiline relieves the pain in the worst case of Sore Mouth and cures inside of 24 hours.

25 and 50 cents. All druggists.

THE TONSILINE CO. CANTON, O.

Fire Committee of Council Will Soon Buy a Good Team.

The fire committee of council are at present looking for a good team for the East End, and as soon as they can purchase horses that will be satisfactory at a reasonable figure they will be placed in that department.

An effort will be made to have the new department in perfect running order before the next meeting of council, and the only thing that remains to be done is the selection of the man to have charge of the place.

IN CUBA.

John B. Hoefgen Was There on Important Business.

When John B. Hoefgen, manager of the street railway, left the city a few weeks ago he did not say where he was going, but it has since been learned that he went to Cuba.

The gentleman's well known desire for investment prompts the belief that his journey was not altogether one of pleasure.

SPECTATORS INTERFERED

And a Man and Woman, Quarreling in a Saloon, Did Not Fight.

Last evening a wordy war occurred in an uptown saloon between a man and woman, and a large number of people congregated on the outside to hear the discussion. The man seemed to be very drunk and the woman threatened to give him a thrashing, but spectators interfered before they came to blows.

WARREN'S POTTERY

The Company Is Capitalized at $100,000.

A press dispatch from Warren says: "The Brewer Pottery company, which will erect a large establishment near this city, yesterday elected these officers: President, Mungo Brownlee; vice president and secretary, George P. Predmore; treasurer, S. W. Sigler. The company is capitalized at $100,000."

On the River.

Although the rain of Tuesday was heavy enough up the Allegheny to cause a rise, it will not come, because of the sudden cold snap yesterday. At the wharf this morning the stage was 3.3 feet and falling.

The low water has had a bad effect on Liverpool to some extent. It has been learned that several owners of small packets about Pittsburg had contracted to bring excursions to Liverpool during the conclave and were unable to do so on account of the low stages which have prevailed during the week.

Boats Not Far Away.

It is said that many of the boats plying on the Ohio river are within 12 hours run from Pittsburg. Several of the larger boats are now at Wheeling. They will all start north as soon as there is a few feet more of water.

Prominent Englishman Dead.

Word was received in this city yesterday of the death of John Smith at Youngstown. Mr. Smith was known to many in this place, and was born in Staffordshire. He was a contractor and an officer in the Sons of St. George.

Only a Farmer's Daughter.

The Tommy Shearer company last evening presented the "Waif of the Mines." The play was first class in every particular, and the specialties introduced between acts were thoroughly up to date. Tonight, "Only a Farmer's Daughter" will be played.

Wants a Shed Removed.

Mayor Bough wants the old shed in the rear of city hall disposed of. The mayor's office has a peculiar odor connected with it, caused by the dampness in the shed, and a request for its removal may be made to council in the near future.

Read Cohen's Ad.

Don't fail to read Cohen's ad in tomorrow's issue of the NEWS REVIEW. It is a clear story of the many bargains to be found in his splendid store in the Diamond, and all persons who buy clothing and gents' furnishings are certainly interested.

SOME CANNOT AFFORD

To Contribute to the Lafayette Fund

To That Part of the Program For the Proposed Celebration—Educators In Other Parts of the Country Take the Same Stand on the Matter.

The matter of collecting money in the public schools for the purpose of aiding in the erection of a monument at Paris to General Lafayette is causing no end of discussion throughout the country, and East Liverpool is no exception. A prominent resident of the city agrees that no right minded person objects to the erection of a monument to the noble hero, but shows that thousands of school children cannot afford to contribute to any cause. The following article in support of that position is taken from the New England Journal of Education:

"This is Lafayette's year. The schools will do well to have appropriate exercises some time before June. His service to America entitles him to the appreciative recognition of the schools. But this does not carry with it an endorsement of attempt to raise a fund."

"There is a well promoted scheme for the raising of a fund for a Lafayette monument in Paris by the school children of the United States. It is ingracious to oppose so well intentioned a plan is this, but the Journal does not believe in this method of raising funds. There is running parallel with this a plan to raise money in the schools for a United States naval vessel to take the place of the Maine. Assuming that these two are all right, that every dollar raised will go for the objects designated, it opens the way for no end of mischief."

"Every grand, philanthropic scheme for raising money by such collections that we have taken the trouble to look into directs a considerable part of the funds into the pockets of the canvassers or is expended in printing, office rent, and postage stamps. There are many men and women whose whole business is the launching of schemes for collecting money for good causes for the purpose of getting a living out of promoting the plan."

"This is probably not the purpose of either of these movements, but it is possible that quite a portion of the money given by the children will go into traveling expenses, postage, printing, stationery, clerical services and office hire. If not in these cases, their success would tempt the professional promoters of philanthropic schemes for selfish purposes to invade the schools like an army. The whole thing is dangerous."

SUMMONED TO WOOSTER.

Captain Hill Is Today Calling on Colonel Hard.

Capt. W. M. Hill left today for Wooster, where he has been summoned by Colonel Hard.

It is understood his visit is in regard to arrangements to be made for the mustering out of the regiment, but Captain Hill will give no opinion as to why he has been called. Many of the boys of the company are expressing an opinion that they do not believe they will be mustered out for a few months at least.

NEW CARS.

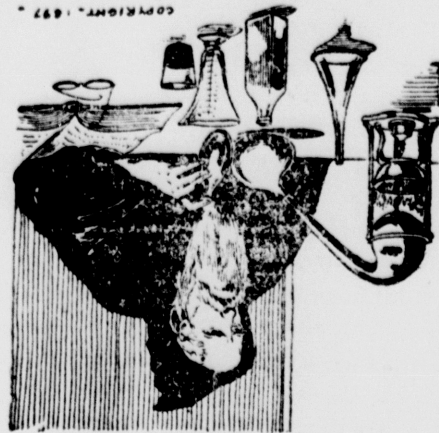

They Have Been Shipped and Will Soon Be Here.

The new winter cars ordered by the company in this city from a firm in St. Louis were shipped from the factory Monday afternoon last. They are now expected to arrive in the lower yards not later than next Wednesday.

It will take but a short time to change the motors, and they will be running by the last of next week.

No Business This Morning.

No arrests were made during last night or this morning and as a result marked quiet prevailed about city hall today. Mayor Bough was not in his office, and the jail door, wide open, was a sure sign that nothing was being done.

BRYAN DENIES HIS NAME

Says He Did Not Sign It to Note and Mortgage

SOLD TO HON. DAVID BOYCE

And For the Amount of Which Suit Has Been Brought Against F. E. Grosshans. Cases Considered in Common Pleas Court.

LISBON, Oct. 13.—[Special]—The case of Hon. David Boyce against F. E. Grosshans was the first taken up in court this morning.

Mr. Boyce seeks to recover from the defendant $200 on a note and mortgage which he claims were forged by Alex Stevenson and were sold to him by the defendant. The names of J. W. Bryan and his wife appear on both documents. The defense claims that he did not know the note and mortgage to be forged, and acted in good faith when the sale was made.

John Bryan, Edna Bryan, Thomas Stevenson and David Boyce were sworn as witnesses for the plaintiff. Bryan was the first witness, and when shown the note and mortgage said he did not sign either, nor did he authorize anyone to sign them for him.

Mrs. Edna Bryan testified to substantially the same as her husband. Thomas Stevenson said he was never the owner of the papers, and did not endorse them. The note and mortgage purported to be given to Stevenson.

Hon. David Boyce said that April 7, 1897, Grosshans asked if he had $200 to lend on a good mortgage. He replied that he had, and note and mortgage were brought to him at the First National bank. The mortgage had not been recorded. Mr. Boyce asked that it be done, and it was placed in the recorder's hands. He said Mr. Grosshans said the loan was a good one, the property was valuable and Bryan had paid $600 for it. A check for $200 was given Mr. Grosshans. He began to think the papers were forgeries after Alex Stevenson's actions became known.

THE WOMAN WON

In the Case That Went From Wellsville to Lisbon.

LISBON, Oct. 13.—[Special]—The verdict of the jury in the case of Kate Timlyn against Harry Kountz was guilty. The jury was out only five minutes. A number of letters added spice to the testimony. Judge Taylor gave Miss Timlyn a judgment of $250. He will also pay the costs of prosecution. The charge was one of a delicate nature. The child has been dead some time.

Aaron V. Broomal has filed a petition asking $155 from Galen Mortland. It is claimed on a promissory note. Lemuel J. Nold and Eli Garretson claim some interest in Butler land owned by the defendant, and are asked to set up their claim.

J. J. Seldner, of Baltimore, has sued George L. Seldner and 12 others as heirs, executors and trustees of the estate of Eva Seldner, for foreclosure of a mortgage of $12,000 on 582 acres in St. Clair township, including grist mills, saw mills and machinery. The mortgage was given in 1885.

The case of Celina Chamberlain against J. L. Chamberlain was submitted by consent to Judge Taylor upon the pleadings and evidence and judgment given plaintiff for $180.67.

No Game.

The football game to have been played Saturday with the Aspinwall eleven has been canceled owing to the fact that the Aspinwall team has disbanded.

SOME MEETINGS.

Democrats Have Asked For Rice and Sherwood, of Canton.

The Democratic central committee have not as yet secured speakers to address meetings in this city but before the campaign is over several addresses will be delivered here.

The state committee is expected to furnish them with a speaker of national reputation and the committee have made a request for certain parties whose names they will not give out. In addition to this the committee will probably endeavor to secure Mayor Rice, of Canton, and General Sherwood to make speeches here. A meeting will be held tomorrow evening when it is probable some action will be taken toward making arrangements to open the campaign.

MASHED A CAR.

Trouble on the Street Railway in West End, This Morning.

The first street car smashup that has happened for many months occurred this morning.

The tracks are being moved out in Jethro street and a couple of rails had been removed. Nancy Hanks was standing on one side of the place when car 35 came from the opposite direction, and jumping off of the end of the rails struck Nancy Hanks. As a result the front platform was broken from 35, while the Nancy received but slight damage.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—K. P. Beatty has returned after a business visit to New York.

—Harry Wyllie, of Toronto, spent last evening in the city visiting friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Major Newman and son, of Washington street, spent the day in Pittsburg visiting friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Mountford and daughter, of Second street, were Pittsburg visitors today.

—George S. Greisinger, of Steubenville, spent yesterday in the city attending to some important business. He returned to his home this morning.

ALGER IS DEAD.

Sergeant Hanley's Dog Was Killed by a Street Car.

Sergt. Frank Hanley is now mourning the loss of his dog, killed by a street car last evening.

The animal was valued very highly by the sergeant as a pet. It was secured by him when Company E was at Camp Alger. When the order came for them to leave for Cuba "Alger," as the dog was called, was carefully boxed up and sent to this city.

ANOTHER CASE.

Scarlet Fever Has Appeared in the Family of W. E. Rex.

The second case of scarlet fever in several months was this morning reported to Health Officer Ogden.

The party afflicted is the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rex, Seventh and Franklin streets. The house was quarantined at once and every precaution will be taken to prevent the disease from spreading.

Lively Times in the Yards.

Several cars loaded with potatoes were received in the lower freight yards this morning, and for a time there were some lively scenes.

Those to whom the cars were consigned were unable to get at them on account of trains blocking the roadway. The matter was soon straightened out.

Building in Chester.

There has been considerable building on the Virginia side during the past few months, and another house has been completed. The houses have been built in Chester and there is quite an increase in the number of residences over last year.

BIG CROWD WILL COME

If the County Organization Accepts the Invitation

OF THE LOCAL ENDEAVORERS

The Convention Which Meets in Lisbon This Week Will Consider Our Claim For the Gathering Next October—Chances For Success.

Unless all efforts fail the next convention of the county Endeavor societies will be held in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church last evening held a very important business meeting, and it was decided to change the constitution so that every member of the society will sign a new pledge and constitution at the end of every six months. The reason given for this is that many members of the society do not attend the consecration services and there are many names read out to which no response is given. By the new plan only the persons signing the pledges will have their names read out at the consecration services. The plan will undoubtedly reduce the membership of the society but it will do much toward increasing the spiritual welfare.

It was also decided to extend an earnest invitation to the county convention now being held at Lisbon to hold their next session at the First church in this city. The invitation will be extended by Dr. John Lloyd Lee, and there is but little doubt that it will be accepted.

NOT A BIG DAY.

Not Much Freight Was Handled Yesterday.

Not much freight was handled at the depot yesterday, but still the rollers were kept quite busy. The bulk of the shipments are going west and south, but this is not an unusual occurrence as the room for trade in the west and south is greater than the east and north. Receipts are very brisk, and the wareroom is now crowded with freight.

CARPENTERS WILL CALL

This morning a first class dog fight occurred in the Diamond. A large crowd had collected, when Constable Schenkel appeared. Going to the wagon of a farmer he secured a buggy whip, and taking one of the dogs by the tail he proceeded to wade in with the whip while the crowd cheered. The dogs were finally separated and the excitement was soon over.

Gone to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson and daughter, Miss Millicent, of Thompson place, left at noon for New York city, where they will remain several weeks. Miss Millicent Thompson will enter the Virgil school of music, and will remain there completing her education.

A Reunion.

Yesterday Township Trustee Lloyd was in Pittsburg, and there he met his sons, George, Walter, Adrian and Edward, and a brother. The party held a family reunion, and had a very enjoyable day.

Important Meeting.

The Relief corps will meet tomorrow afternoon, and it is earnestly requested that all who can will attend the meeting, as preparation is being made for the annual inspection which will take place in the near future. There are also other important matters to discuss.

Will Be Married.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Henry Ashbaugh, formerly of this city, and Miss Clementine Meek, of East Palestine. The ceremony will be performed at the residence of the bride's parents next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock.

NEWS REVIEW for all the news.

Taste of Boiled Water.

In advocating the practice of boiling water (and milk) of uncertain purity, Professor Buzzzero combats the prejudice against boiled water as a beverage. He maintains that the "taste" frequently complained of in boiled water is really caused by the kettle and can scarcely be due to the absence of dissolved air, of which water from wells of great depth often contains very little.

Lively Times in the Yards.

Several cars loaded with potatoes were received in the lower freight yards this morning, and for a time there were some lively scenes.

Those to whom the cars were consigned were unable to get at them on account of trains blocking the roadway. The matter was soon straightened out.

Building in Chester.

There has been considerable building on the Virginia side during the past few months, and another house has been completed. The houses have been built in Chester and there is quite an increase in the number of residences over last year.

BIG CROWD WILL COME

If the County Organization Accepts the Invitation

OF THE LOCAL ENDEAVORERS

The Convention Which Meets in Lisbon This Week Will Consider Our Claim For the Gathering Next October—Chances For Success.

Unless all efforts fail the next convention of the county Endeavor societies will be held in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church last evening held a very important business meeting, and it was decided to change the constitution so that every member of the society will sign a new pledge and constitution at the end of every six months. The reason given for this is that many members of the society do not attend the consecration services and there are many names read out to which no response is given. By the new plan only the persons signing the pledges will have their names read out at the consecration services. The plan will undoubtedly reduce the membership of the society but it will do much toward increasing the spiritual welfare.

It was also decided to extend an earnest invitation to the county convention now being held at Lisbon to hold their next session at the First church in this city. The invitation will be extended by Dr. John Lloyd Lee, and there is but little doubt that it will be accepted.

NOT A BIG DAY.

Not Much Freight Was Handled Yesterday.

Not much freight was handled at the depot yesterday, but still the rollers were kept quite busy. The bulk of the shipments are going west and south, but this is not an unusual occurrence as the room for trade in the west and south is greater than the east and north. Receipts are very brisk, and the wareroom is now crowded with freight.

On One of Their Number Who Was Recently Married.

The carpenter's union will hold their regular meeting this evening, and after routine business has been transacted they will call in a body on J. B. Martin, Helana, a member of their organization who was recently married.

NOTICE.

Water consumers should call at the water works office and pay their water rent. By doing so now you will save the discount. J. W. GIPNER, Clerk.

Hoskinsons Gave Bail.

Elmer Hoskinsons, who has been in jail for several days on a charge preferred against him in Justice Rose's court, was released yesterday afternoon. Bail for $300 was given for his appearance in court.

An Improvement.

A new stove has been purchased by the city and placed in Clerk Hanley's office. It is quite an improvement over the one that was used during the past few years. It was used for the first time yesterday.

Has No Cases.

Truant Officer Beardmore stated this morning that there was a scarcity of truant cases now, and that the children are attending to their school work in a manner seldom before seen. There has not been a case for over a week.

Coming Tomorrow.

Chief Johnson, who has been spending the week in Pittsburg with Pilgrim commandery, is expected home tomorrow night.

Stopped the Fight.

This morning a first class dog fight occurred in the Diamond. A large crowd had collected, when Constable Schenkel appeared. Going to the wagon of a farmer he secured a buggy whip, and taking one of the dogs by the tail he proceeded to wade in with the whip while the crowd cheered. The dogs were finally separated and the excitement was soon over.

Gone to New York.

Taste of Boiled Water.

In advocating the practice of boiling water (and milk) of uncertain purity, Professor Bizzozero combats the prejudice against boiled water as a beverage. He maintains that the "taste" frequently complained of in boiled water is really caused by the kettle and can scarcely be due to the absence of dissolved air, of which water from wells of great depth often contains very little.

Won a Case.

The case of Teresa Ackerman against William Averman was heard before Justice Rose this morning at 9 o'clock. The case was to recover $11, and judgment was awarded the plaintiff.

LOGAN WAS DISMISSED

He Was Found Innocent of Assault and Battery.

BIG CROWD AT THE TRIAL

Where Four Witnesses Told the Story of an Unusual Happening—The Outgrowth of a Matter Settled by Squire Hill Last Week.

The case of Homer Twaddle against John Logan, a 14-year-old boy, for assault and battery, was heard last evening in the court of Squire Hill.

The parties acted as their own attorneys, and the large crowd which attended the trial were furnished with plenty of amusement. Last week the father of Logan had Twaddle arrested for kicking his boy, and Twaddle plead guilty to the charge and was fined $6.00, which he paid, and immediately entered a counter charge against Logan.

Four witnesses were subpoenaed on the case. According to the testimony given one day last week Logan was running through the shop in which Twaddle worked and accidentally ran into that gentleman. Twaddle immediately grabbed Logan and shook him severely and threatened to do him bodily injury. When released Logan picked up a small stone about the size of a marble and threw it at Twaddle, striking him on the apron. Twaddle did not like this, and making a rush for the small boy, caught him and kicked him severely.

It was proved that Logan was not standing more than five feet from Twaddle when he threw the stone, and as a consequence he could not have injured that gentleman to any great extent. Squire Hill dismissed the case and assessed the costs on the plaintiff.

ANOTHER CASE

Comes From the River Front to a Squire's Court.

Shantyboat town has once more found its way into court. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Love entered a charge in the court of Squire Hill against James Hooks who she claims attempted to provoke a breach of the peace by calling her hard and insulting names.

Constable Miller arrested Hooks and he plead not guilty and was released upon his own recognizance and will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon.

ASHES OF COLUMBUS.

Rev. Dr. William Short Says They Are Not at Havana, but at Santo Domingo—Profound Respect Paid to His Relics.

Rev. Dr. William Short in a letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat about the remains of Columbus says: The remains which Spain is removing from Havana are not those of Christopher Columbus. As one of the few citizens of the United States who have seen and had in his hands the veritable and genuine relics of the great discoverer, I have several times called the attention of the public to an incident in modern history which entirely disproves the Havana claim.

After the treaty of Basel, in 1795, when Spain ceded to France her part of the island of Santo Domingo, she reserved the privilege of removing the bones of the illustrious admiral from the cathedral there, where they had been since 1536 or 1541, to Spanish soil. But when the bones were brought from Seville and placed in the cathedral at Santo Domingo, no monument or inscription was made to mark the exact place where they were deposited. Moreau St. Mery, writing in 1783, 12 years before the time of the supposed removal to Havana, says that "their location had become a matter of absolute doubt and uncertainty," but when the transfer was about to take place, a search was made by excavating in the chancel of the cathedral, about where the relic was supposed to be. The record states that they came upon "the remains of some deceased person," but there was no inscription or anything by which they could be identified. The records of the cathedral were claimed to have been destroyed when the soldiers of Drake pillaged the city, over two centuries ago, so it was thought there was no way of arriving at any absolute certainty. The remains of this "deceased person" were, however, taken to Havana and deposited in the cathedral there with great pomp and ceremony. For over three-quarters of a century no question was raised as to these being the veritable remains of the great admiral. Washington Irving accepted it as a fact, and nearly all our school histories so state it.

But in the year 1877 the Rev. Canon Bellini, while making some alterations in the chancel of the cathedral at Santo Domingo, came upon a small crypt underneath the tiling of the chancel floor. Thinking that the find might prove of historic value, in order to have witnesses to substantiate whatever might be revealed, before proceeding to open the crypt, he sent for the archbishop, several of the state officials and a number of the foreign consuls, among whom was our representative, Mr. Paul Jones. After their arrival the doors were shut to keep out the crowd, and the process of exploration was continued. On the removal of the stone lid or cover of the crypt a leaden box was discovered about 18 inches long by about 18 1/2 inches deep and wide. This little box or casket was removed and found to contain a quantity of dust and quite a number of pieces of bones, which medical men readily identified as the bones of a man. A small plate lay upon the box and a couple of screws which it is supposed fastened the plate to a wooden box which originally contained the casket, but which had entirely rotted away. On one side of this plate, of silver, very much tarnished, was an inscription which became plainly legible after rubbing the plate and was "A. Cristobal Colon," which, as we would read it, is Admiral Christopher Columbus. On examining the leaden casket, which had likewise become much oxidized, other inscriptions were found, which, after a little rubbing, could also be easily deciphered. On the top of the lid was "D de la A., P'er A'te," which was interpreted in several ways, but the following was considered to be the probable one: "Descubridor de la America, Primer Almirante"—i. e., "Discoverer of America, First Admiral." On the underside of the lid was also found the following: "Ill'tre y Es'cog do Varou, Don Cristofol Colon," which translated means, "The Most Illustrious and Enlightened Squire, Christopher Columbus."

This find caused the greatest excitement in Santo Domingo and filled the authorities with amazement. The most careful record was kept of the examination and was certified to by those present. Previous to that time there had been little doubt that Spain had removed the remains of Columbus to Havana, but this find was convincing proof that a mistake had been made and that the relics taken to Havana were those of some one else, probably of Don Diego, the son of the admiral, which were known to have been deposited near by. While in Santo Domingo I examined the evidence carefully and became convinced that the bones of Columbus never were removed from the cathedral there. Mr. J. Curson Brevoort in an article in The Magazine of American History makes the same concession. Spain, of course, claimed fraud, and, though her own consul was present at the find and testified as to the accuracy of the investigations, yet he was at once superseded. Never have I seen relics of saint or patriot treated with more profound respect than those of Columbus are at Santo Domingo. They are kept in a carefully guarded chamber or vault in the cathedral, locked with three sets of locks, whose keys are held by the archbishop and two state officials. The regulations require that the chamber can only be opened in the presence of one official of the cathedral and two of the government, and a record is kept of all visitors who are allowed to view the remains. It is only on rare occasions that this is done. In my mind there is not the faintest doubt that the remains which Spain is removing from Havana are those of Don Diego and not of Christopher Columbus.

Flowers are the poetry of the earth; babies the sons of humanity. Banish the smiles, the dimples and the laughter of childhood and the world would become a barren wilderness, inhabited by savages. Woman's ultimate mission, duty and joy on earth are comprised in the one word, "Motherhood." Multitudes of women fail of this mission because of weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. They do not understand that disorders of this description unfit them for wifehood and motherhood, and as a consequence are careless and neglectful of their health in a womanly way. Others who realize the truth, shrink from the "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does away with the necessity for these obnoxious examinations and local treatments. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that are the vestibule of human life and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the annoyances of the uncomfortable period preceding maternity and makes baby's arrival in the world easy and nearly painless. All the dangers of maternity vanish under its beneficent influence. Its use during the period of antipathy is a guarantee of the little stranger's health and an ample supply of natural nourishment. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits. All medicine stores sell it. Accept no substitute that may be represented as "just as good."

"For ten years I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Carline King, of New Boston, Scioto Co., Ohio. "I then took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and eleven months later presented my husband with a twelve-pound boy. My health is good."

WHAT IT MEANS.

To An East Liverpool Citizen. No Experiment Required.

People with bad backs are always looking for relief.

Plaster is helped at first, but their effect lessened with use.

Liniments acted the same way. They didn't reach the cause.

The kidneys can't be plastered. Can't be rubbed with liniment.

And in most cases the kidneys are the cause.

Doan's Kidney Pills do it all. They right the kidney's action.

Do you realize what this means? It means no more backache.

If you take Doan's Kidney Pills. No more urinary troubles.

It means well kidneys and health. No need to experiment to find relief.

Doan's Kidney Pills Cure.

East Liverpool people say so.

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery and a resident of East Liverpool for the past forty-five years, says: "During my campaign experience between the years of 61 and 64, contracted a weakness of the kidneys which bothered me more or less ever since. I had a constant aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism, especially in damp or changeable weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and, in fact, could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies in an endeavor to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing that seemed suited to my case until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief and warding off the last attack. I do not hesitate to give Doan's Kidney Pills my earnest endorsement, believing they will be a great source of benefit to those troubled as I was."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Pointed.

Study of local peculiarities is one of the first conditions of trade success. It is said that German pins and needles in China have displaced those of better quality made in England because the English persist in putting theirs up in black paper, which to the Chinese stands for ill luck, while the Germans, understanding this, put theirs up in red paper, which has a more cheerful omen. —Boston Journal.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? LOGAN WAS DISMISSED

He Was Found Innocent of Assault and Battery.

BIG CROWD AT THE TRIAL

Where Four Witnesses Told the Story of an Unusual Happening—The Outgrowth of a Matter Settled by Squire Hill Last Week.

The case of Homer Twaddle against John Logan, a 14-year-old boy, for assault and battery, was heard last evening in the court of Squire Hill.

The parties acted as their own attorneys, and the large crowd which attended the trial were furnished with plenty of amusement. Last week the father of Logan had Twaddle arrested for kicking his boy, and Twaddle pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $6.00, which he paid, and immediately entered a counter charge against Logan.

Four witnesses were subpoenaed on the case. According to the testimony given one day last week Logan was running through the shop in which Twaddle worked and accidentally ran into that gentleman. Twaddle immediately grabbed Logan and shook him severely and threatened to do him bodily injury. When released Logan picked up a small stone about the size of a marble and threw it at Twaddle, striking him on the apron. Twaddle did not like this, and making a rush for the small boy, caught him and kicked him severely.

It was proved that Logan was not standing more than five feet from Twaddle when he threw the stone, and as a consequence he could not have injured that gentleman to any great extent. Squire Hill dismissed the case and assessed the costs on the plaintiff.

ANOTHER CASE

Comes From the River Front to a Squire's Court.

Shantyboat town has once more found its way into court. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Love entered a charge in the court of Squire Hill against James Hooks who she claims attempted to provoke a breach of the peace by calling her hard and insulting names.

Constable Miller arrested Hooks and he pleaded not guilty and was released upon his own recognizance and will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon.

ASHES OF COLUMBUS.

Rev. Dr. William Short Says They Are Not at Havana, but at Santo Domingo—Profound Respect Paid to His Relics.

Rev. Dr. William Short in a letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat about the remains of Columbus says: The remains which Spain is removing from Havana are not those of Christopher Columbus. As one of the few citizens of the United States who have seen and had in his hands the veritable and genuine relics of the great discoverer, I have several times called the attention of the public to an incident in modern history which entirely disproves the Havana claim.

After the treaty of Basel, in 1795, when Spain ceded to France her part of the island of Santo Domingo, she reserved the privilege of removing the bones of the illustrious admiral from the cathedral there, where they had been since 1536 or 1541, to Spanish soil. But when the bones were brought from Seville and placed in the cathedral at Santo Domingo, no monument or inscription was made to mark the exact place where they were deposited. Moreau St. Mery, writing in 1783, 12 years before the time of the supposed removal to Havana, says that "their location had become a matter of absolute doubt and uncertainty," but when the transfer was about to take place, a search was made by excavating in the chancel of the cathedral, about where the relic was supposed to be. The record states that they came upon "the remains of some deceased person," but there was no inscription or anything by which they could be identified. The records of the cathedral were claimed to have been destroyed when the soldiers of Drake pillaged the city, over two centuries ago, so it was thought there was no way of arriving at any absolute certainty. The remains of this "deceased person" were, however, taken to Havana and deposited in the cathedral there with great pomp and ceremony. For over three-quarters of a century no question was raised as to these being the veritable remains of the great admiral. Washington Irving accepted it as a fact, and nearly all our school histories so state it.

But in the year 1877 the Rev. Canon Bellini, while making some alterations in the chancel of the cathedral at Santo Domingo, came upon a small crypt underneath the tiling of the chancel floor. Thinking that the find might prove of historic value, in order to have witnesses to substantiate whatever might be revealed, before proceeding to open the crypt, he sent for the archbishop, several of the state officials and a number of the foreign consuls, among whom was our representative, Mr. Paul Jones. After their arrival the doors were shut to keep out the crowd, and the process of exploration was continued. On the removal of the stone lid or cover of the crypt a leaden box was discovered about 18 inches long by about 18 1/2 inches deep and wide. This little box or casket was removed and found to contain a quantity of dust and quite a number of pieces of bones, which medical men readily identified as the bones of a man. A small plate lay upon the box and a couple of screws which it is supposed fastened the plate to a wooden box which originally contained the casket, but which had entirely rotted away. On one side of this plate, of silver, very much tarnished, was an inscription which became plainly legible after rubbing the plate and was "A. Cristobal Colon," which, as we would read it, is Admiral Christopher Columbus. On examining the leaden casket, which had likewise become much oxidized, other inscriptions were found, which, after a little rubbing, could also be easily deciphered. On the top of the lid was "D de la A. P'er A'te," which was interpreted in several ways, but the following was considered to be the probable one: "Descubridor de la America, Primer Almirante"—i. e., "Discoverer of America, First Admiral." On the underside of the lid was also found the following: "Il'tre y Es'cog do Varou, Don Cristobal Colon," which translated means, "The Most Illustrious and Enlightened Squire, Christopher Columbus."

This find caused the greatest excitement in Santo Domingo and filled the authorities with amazement. The most careful record was kept of the examination and was certified to by those present. Previous to that time there had been little doubt that Spain had removed the remains of Columbus to Havana, but this find was convincing proof that a mistake had been made and that the relics taken to Havana were those of some one else, probably of Don Diego, the son of the admiral, which were known to have been deposited near by. While in Santo Domingo I examined the evidence carefully and became convinced that the bones of Columbus never were removed from the cathedral there. Mr. J. Curson Brevoort in an article in The Magazine of American History makes the same concession. Spain, of course, claimed fraud, and, though her own consul was present at the find and testified as to the accuracy of the investigations, yet he was at once superseded.

Never have I seen relics of saint or patriot treated with more profound re-

Flowers are the poetry of the earth; babies the sonnets of humanity. Banish the smiles, the dimples and the laughter of childhood and the world would become a barren wilderness, inhabited by savages.

Woman's ultimate mission, duty and joy on earth are comprised in the one word, "Motherhood." Multitudes of women fail of this mission because of weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. They do not understand that disorders of this description unfit them for wifehood and motherhood, and as a consequence are careless and neglectful of their health in a womanly way. Others who realize the truth, shrink from the "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does away with the necessity for these obnoxious examinations and local treatments. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that make them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the annoyances of the uncomfortable period preceding maternity and makes baby's arrival in the world easy and nearly painless. All the dangers of maternity vanish under its beneficent influence. Its use during the period of anticipation is a guarantee of the little stranger's health and an ample supply of natural nourishment. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits. All medicine stores sell it. Accept no substitute that may be represented as "just as good."

"For ten years I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Caroline King, of New Boston, Ohio. "I then took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and eleven months later presented my husband with a twelve-pound boy. My health is good."

WHAT IT MEANS.

To An East Liverpool Citizen. No Experiment Required.

People with bad backs are always looking for relief. Plaster is helped at first, but their effect lessened with use.

Liniments acted the same way. They didn't reach the cause. The kidneys can't be plastered. Can't be rubbed with liniment. And in most cases the kidneys are the cause.

Doan's Kidney Pills do it all. They right the kidney's action. Do you realize what this means? It means no more backache. If you take Doan's Kidney Pills. No more urinary troubles. It means well kidneys and health. No need to experiment to find relief. Doan's Kidney Pills Cure.

East Liverpool people say so. Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, writes to the D. E. McNicol pottery and a resident of East Liverpool for the past forty-five years, says: "During my campaign experience between the years of 61 and 64, contracted a weakness of the kidneys which bothered me more or less ever since. I had a constant aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism, especially in damp or changeable weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and, in fact, could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies in an endeavor to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing that seemed suited to my case until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief and warding off the last attack. I do not hesitate to give Doan's Kidney Pills my earnest endorsement, believing they will be a great source of benefit to those troubled as I was."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

spect than those of Columbus are at Santo Domingo. They are kept in a carefully guarded chamber or vault in the cathedral, locked with three sets of locks, whose keys are held by the archbishop and two state officials. The regulations require that the chamber can only be opened in the presence of one official of the cathedral and two of the government, and a record is kept of all visitors who are allowed to view the remains. It is only on rare occasions that this is done. In my mind there is not the faintest doubt that the remains which Spain is removing from Havana are those of Don Diego and not of Christopher Columbus.

Pointed.

Study of local peculiarities is one of the first conditions of trade success. It is said that German pins and needles in China have displaced those of better quality made in England because the English persist in putting theirs up in black paper, which to the Chinese stands for ill luck, while the Germans, understanding this, put theirs up in red paper, which has a more cheerful omen.—Boston Journal.

WORKING A NEW GAME

Railroads Are the Victims of Scalpers

USING SOLDIER TRANSPORTATION

It Is a Smooth Scheme, and Has Already Cost Companies Throughout the Country No Little Annoyance—Precautions Taken.

Some men are wearing the uniform of the American soldier to serve the ticket scalpers of Chicago. With a patriotic impulse all the railroads agreed to sell tickets at half rates to soldiers and sailors, as well as to those mustered out of the service and returning to their homes, as those having furloughs or "sick leave." In order to prevent imposition the railroads decided to sell the half rate tickets only to soldiers in uniform. The rule was not strictly adhered to by all the roads, some of them issuing the cheap tickets to persons in civilian dress who carried furloughs or "sick leaves." In a number of cases it was discovered that tickets given to such persons were sold to scalpers. One man in one day secured half rate tickets from four railroads. Then the railroads more rigidly enforced the rule that the half rate tickets should be issued only to soldiers in uniform. For a time it seemed as if this plan was preventing the scalpers from getting the tickets, but later tests made by detectives of the Central and Western Passenger associations showed that in some way the scalpers were continuing to get in large numbers the tickets sold presumably only to soldiers and sailors.

Yesterday one of the detectives of the Central Passenger association discovered how the scalpers were getting their tickets. A man wearing the uniform of a soldier, minus the letters and figures to indicate to which company and regiment he belonged, went to the ticket office of the Baltimore and Ohio and secured a half-rate ticket to Philadelphia. Then he went to the Erie office and got a ticket to New York. At the Wabash office he obtained a ticket to Buffalo. Then he tried the western lines. From one he secured a ticket to St. Paul, from another a ticket to Lincoln, Neb., and from a third a ticket to Kansas City, all, of course, at half rate.

The detective followed the man in soldier's clothes on his rounds, which ended in an office building on Dearborn street, near Van Buren. Presently out of the office the "soldier" entered came a man who went direct to a scalper's office on Clark street. Later the detective went there and bought one of the tickets which had been given at half-rate to the soldier an hour or two before.

Anybody who tries to travel on one of the tickets issued yesterday on account of a soldier will be likely to pay full fare and lose the money he paid the scalper. All the railroads issued special instructions to their gatemen and conductors to look out for the tickets.

Heretofore most of the railroads have simply stamped the word "special" on the tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers and sailors, and it was the easiest thing for brokers to handle them. Precautions will be taken by all the railroads to protect themselves from further impositions by the agents of the brokers, whether or not they have the right to wear the uniform of soldiers or sailors. Secretary Fort, of the Central Passenger association, yesterday notified all the eastern lines of the latest trick of the scalpers, and suggested that hereafter all tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers or sailors be plainly stamped, "Good only for soldier or sailor in uniform." He also suggested that beginning next Monday all applicants for reduced rates on the ground that they are soldiers or sailors upon sick leave or furlough be referred to the headquarters of the Central Passenger association, and the tickets issued only to holders of certificates signed by the commissioner of the association. Chairman Caldwell has taken steps to protect the lines of the Western Passenger association—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Low Rates For Conclave
Elaborate arrangements are completed for the Knights Templar conclave at Pittsburg in October. EXPANSION SATISFIED.

And That Is Why Its Advocates Are Not Calling For More.

"The expansion spirit is dying out," say our looking-backward friends, and it is true. The demand for expansion is dying out because the demand has been reasonably satisfied. The Spaniards are evacuating Porto Rico and the Stars and Stripes will go up never to come down. Cuba will enjoy home rule tentatively under the suzerainty of this country, which means that we are assured of first-rate trade relations with that wonderful island, intrinsically valuable and valuable beyond price on account of their strategic value. Here will be the shipping yards and the warehouses in which goods of this country will be stored with which to supply the Asiatic trade. Originally the expansionists sought only to annex these islands because they were the only ones that could be annexed peacefully. When the flag was finally raised in Honolulu the ambition of many an annexationist was gratified.

The war coming on with Spain, however, gave us opportunities to plant our flag and open up a route for our commerce elsewhere, and the island of Guam in the Ladrone group was seized, which, with Manila and a coaling station yet to be selected in the Caroline group, will give this country access to the markets of the east. There is reason to believe, therefore, that the expansion idea is not so strong as it used to be. The appetite of the expansionists is sated. When a boy feasts for an hour or so on roast turkey and tops it off with a dish of plum pudding it may be truthfully said that his desire to eat has been materially lessened, and for the same reason may it truthfully be said that the expansion spirit is dying out.

The time may come when this country will find use for the Bermudas, the Barbadoes, Jamaica, Santo Domingo and other nearby islands, or, perhaps, Australia, Ceylon, Borneo, Sumatra and contiguous desirable locations, in which case new issues will arise; but for the present, the expansion spirit is pretty well satisfied because the demands and necessities of the nation along the lines of commercial progress, as suggested by common sense, have been amply satisfied or are in a fair way of being satisfied.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal (Dem.).

Let the Party Save What It Has Won.

It is no partisan boast, but plain political narrative, which credits the Republican party with having crowded into the year and a half of the McKinley administration more diverse political accomplishment and more of national regeneration than any previous decade of the country's history can reveal. That nothing of this marvelous achievement shall be undone, that no slip backward into the fearful quagmire into which the latest Democratic charioteer left stalled to the hubs the wheels of state shall befall, and moreover, that such achievement shall continue until the great questions of foreign and domestic affairs now in train toward settlement shall be disposed of, is certainly the first need of the great republic, for whose future the bravest of us had doubts in the so recent past, and of which the weakest of us are so proudly assured today. That is the issue—to keep our country as it is; to keep our country from what it was; to keep those hands shifting the helm and trimming the sails which have ever taken the ship of state fearlessly out upon the open and joyous sea; to keep those hands from wheel and sheet that have twice within a generation—the last time only yesterday—more than grazed the keel upon the lee-shore rocks of disunion, and, again, dishonor.—New York Press (Rep.).

What Democracy Stood For in Congress.

If the silver Democratic members of congress raised the point that there was no necessity for additional revenue we never heard it. What they did contend for was an issue of paper money, rather than an issue of bonds. They contended then, and the free silver papers throughout the country have contended since, that it would have been a great blessing to the country if the government had put more greenbacks in circulation. It was not the debt that they complained of, but the character of the debt. In a spirit of flatism they demanded more fiat money, and argued that if the war should result in the issuance of more greenbacks it would be a blessing to the people. It was not we say, in a spirit of economy but in a spirit of free silver flatism that the silver forces in congress fought the bond issue and advocated an issue of treasury notes instead.—Richmond Times (Dem.).

VITAL QUESTION FOR VOTERS.

"The question before the people is simply this: Is William McKinley to stand alone at one end of the avenue, with a hostile house and a hostile senate at the other, or are we to stay up the arms of that brave, gallant, wise, patriotic president and give him at the other end of the avenue not only a house of repre-

Rubber Band For Headache.

"Departmental headaches are a distinct malady," remarked a well known physician to a reporter, "and it is somewhat of a surprise how many sufferers there are among department clerks from this trouble. The thing seems to grow among them, and they have their headaches as regularly as they have their work.

A simple remedy which is worth trying is to put a rubber band around the head just above the ears. The band should not be tight enough to stop the circulation of the blood. The band known as the string band is generally sufficiently heavy for the purpose. It should be applied just as soon as it is noticed that the headache is setting in and taken off the moment the pain ceases. In many cases the rubber band works nicely, though it affords no relief when the headache is the result of stomach troubles or biliousness.

"I find also that a rubber band twisted about a toe between the corn and the foot is a handy remedy to stop the pain from a jumping corn. Corns are very liable to be troublesome when there is much humidity in the atmosphere. The rubber band seems to temporarily quiet the nerves in the toe, and in this way stop the pain. As in the case of a band around the head, the pressure should not be tight enough to stop the circulation of the blood."—Washington Star.

Argelander's Wit.

As Hansen was Germany's greatest master in mathematical astronomy, so was the venerable Argelander in the observational side of the science, says Professor Simon Newcomb in The Atlantic. He was of the same age as the newly crowned emperor, and the two were playmates at the time Germany was being overrun by the armies of Napoleon. He was held in love and respect by the entire generation of young astronomers, both Germans and foreigners, many of whom were proud to have had him as their preceptor. Among these was Dr. E. A. Gould, who frequently related a story of the astronomer's wit. When with him as a student, he was beardless and had a good head of hair. Returning some years later, he had become bald, but had made up for it by having a full long beard. He entered Argelander's study unannounced. The astronomer looked at him with some surprise, not at first recognizing him.

"Do you not know me, Herr Professor?"

A Trio of Bulls.

The following remark is by a highland clergyman. In his sermon preached in a small church in Strathspey, after inveighing against slothfulness, he said in closing, "Do you think Adam and Eve went about the garden of Eden with their hands in their pockets?"

Last year, in the north of Ireland, the following came under my observation. In a hotel the porter, for my information and dutifully in furtherance of the interests of his employers, remarked, "If you want a drive, sir, you needn't go out of the hotel," meaning, of course, that carriages formed part of the establishment. Another bull was in a conversation overheard between two workmen. One put the question, "Were you acquainted with So-and-so?" to which the reply was, "No; he was dead before I knew him."

An Irish friend of mine was describing a dinner party he had been at. It was a great success, as two noted talkers were present, each of whom was talking so fast that neither could get in a word.—Spectator.

Tobacco in England.

In regard to the suggestion which is sometimes made that one way to relieve agricultural depression in this country would be for the government to allow and even to encourage the growth of tobacco, it may be interesting to note how long the prohibition has lasted and how sternly it has been enforced. This may be gathered from the following extract:

"Cornet Wakefield with a party of horse marching out of Gloucester upon the last of July to Winchcombe and Cheltenham to destroy the Tobacco planted in these parts, the Country did rise against them in a great body, to the number of 5 or 600, giving them very reviling and threatening speeches, even to kill them horse and man, if that he and his Soldiers did come on, insomuch that the tumult being so great, he was constrained to draw off and nothing more done" (Mercurius Politicus, 29 July-5 Aug., 1658).—Notes and Queries.

McKinley Follows Jefferson's Footsteps.

We are now satisfied that in the matter of the Philippines Mr. McKinley will do exactly what Jefferson would have done under the same circumstances, and we congratulate the country on the possession of a president who, at least in this, is in line with the greatest of all Democrats, living or dead.—Florida Times-Union (Dem.).

WORKING A NEW GAME

It Is a Smooth Scheme, and Has Already Cost Companies Throughout the Country No Little Annoyance—Precautions Taken.

Some men are wearing the uniform of the American soldier to serve the ticket scalpers of Chicago. With a patriotic impulse all the railroads agreed to sell tickets at half rates to soldiers and sailors, as well as to those mustered out of the service and returning to their homes, as those having furloughs or "sick leave." In order to prevent imposition the railroads decided to sell the half rate tickets only to soldiers in uniform. The rule was not strictly adhered to by all the roads, some of them issuing the cheap tickets to persons in civilian dress who carried furloughs or "sick leaves." In a number of cases it was discovered that tickets given to such persons were sold to scalpers. One man in one day secured half rate tickets from four railroads. Then the railroads more rigidly enforced the rule that the half rate tickets should be issued only to soldiers in uniform. For a time it seemed as if this plan was preventing the scalpers from getting the tickets, but later tests made by detectives of the Central and Western Passenger associations showed that in some way the scalpers were continuing to get in large numbers the tickets sold presumably only to soldiers and sailors.

Yesterday one of the detectives of the Central Passenger association discovered how the scalpers were getting their tickets. A man wearing the uniform of a soldier, minus the letters and figures to indicate to which company and regiment he belonged, went to the ticket office of the Baltimore and Ohio and secured a half-rate ticket to Philadelphia. Then he went to the Erie office and got a ticket to New York. At the Wabash office he obtained a ticket to Buffalo. Then he tried the western lines. From one he secured a ticket to St. Paul, from another a ticket to Lincoln, Neb., and from a third a ticket to Kansas City, all, of course, at half rate.

The detective followed the man in soldier's clothes on his rounds, which ended in an office building on Dearborn street, near Van Buren. Presently out of the office the "soldier" entered came a man who went direct to a scalper's office on Clark street. Later the detective went there and bought one of the tickets which had been given at half-rate to the soldier an hour or two before.

Anybody who tries to travel on one of the tickets issued yesterday on account of a soldier will be likely to pay full fare and lose the money he paid the scalper. All the railroads issued special instructions to their gatemen and conductors to look out for the tickets.

Heretofore most of the railroads have simply stamped the word "special" on the tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers and sailors, and it was the easiest thing for brokers to handle them. Precautions will be taken by all the railroads to protect themselves from further impositions by the agents of the brokers, whether or not they have the right to wear the uniform of soldiers or sailors. Secretary Fort, of the Central Passenger association, yesterday notified all the eastern lines of the latest trick of the scalpers, and suggested that hereafter all tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers or sailors be plainly stamped, "Good only for soldier or sailor in uniform." He also suggested that beginning next Monday all applicants for reduced rates on the ground that they are soldiers or sailors upon sick leave or furlough be referred to the headquarters of the Central Passenger association, and the tickets issued only to holders of certificates signed by the commissioner of the association. Chairman Caldwell has taken steps to protect the lines of the Western Passenger association—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Low Rates For Conclave

Elaborate arrangements are completed for the Knights Templar conclave at Pittsburg in October. You may enjoy it all by going on low rate tickets to be sold over Pennsylvania lines Oct. 8 to 13, inclusive. After taking in the sights and festivities, interesting side trips may be made from Pittsburg at small cost by depositing return coupon of Pittsburg ticket with joint agent at that place. For particulars apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or address J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent, Pittsburg, Pa.

EXPANSION SATISFIED.

And That Is Why Its Advocates Are Not Calling For More.

"The expansion spirit is dying out," say our looking-backward friends, and it is true. The demand for expansion is dying out because the demand has been reasonably satisfied. The Spaniards are evacuating Porto Rico and the Stars and Stripes will go up never to come down. Cuba will enjoy home rule tentatively under the suzerainty of this country, which means that we are assured of first-rate trade relations with that wonderful island, intrinsically valuable and valuable beyond price on account of their strategic value. Here will be the shipping yards and the warehouses in which goods of this country will be stored with which to supply the Asiatic trade. Originally the expansionists sought only to annex these islands because they were the only ones that could be annexed peacefully. When the flag was finally raised in Honolulu the ambition of many an annexationist was gratified.

The war coming on with Spain, however, gave us opportunities to plant our flag and open up a route for our commerce elsewhere, and the island of Guam in the Ladrone group was seized, which, with Manila and a coaling station yet to be selected in the Caroline group, will give this country access to the markets of the east. There is reason to believe, therefore, that the expansion idea is not so strong as it used to be. The appetite of the expansionists is sated. When a boy feasts for an hour or so on roast turkey and tops it off with a dish of plum pudding it may be truthfully said that his desire to eat has been materially lessened, and for the same reason may it truthfully be said that the expansion spirit is dying out.

ROCKEFELLER FIRM.

Refused to Show Books to Monnett.

SAID HE HADN'T THE POWER.

The Other Trustees, He Declared, Would
Have to Give Him the Authority to Produce Them--Told More of Distribution of Earnings of Defendant Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The contempt
proceedings of the state of Ohio against the officers of the Standard Oil trust
were resumed. John D. Rockefeller, president of the company, took the chair again. The second day's session was held in a parlor of the New Amsterdam hotel.

Attorney General G. S. Monnett of Ohio was assisted by W. L. Flagg of this city and by E. B. Kinkaid of Ohio.
Mr. Rockefeller had with him as counsel Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland and M.
F. Elliott of this city.

Lawyer Kinkaid resumed the examination of Mr. Rockefeller. He wanted to know more about the distribution of earnings of the defendant company.

Mr. Rockefeller said that on March 17, 1892, $3,219,540 in earnings were distributed in accordance with the order of the Ohio court that the trust be dissolved.

Although Mr. Rockefeller said the day before that the books of the company were at the service of the commission, he stated that he could not show the books of the corporation without an order from the other trustees.

Mr. Rockefeller said the following were the trustees of the liquidating trust on Nov. 9, 1897: John D. Rockefeller of New York, Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, F. B. Squire of Cleveland, Martin Snider of Cleveland and
A. M. McGregor of New York.

"How did the defendant company happen to distribute $3,219,540?" was asked Mr. Rockefeller.

"The Ohio company sold its tank cars
to the trust for $3,500,000, and it considered that $3,219,540 could safely be distributed, and did so."

"What are the methods of the Standard Oil company of Ohio since the dissolution of the trust?"

"Just the same as those of any other Ohio stock company. It is managed by its directors, who are elected by the stockholders."

In answer to further questions Mr.
Rockefeller explained that three-sev-
enths of the entire trust certificates which had not yet been canceled were handled by the liquidation trustees.
The other four-sevenths of the original constituent companies was held now

by individual holders who received their dividends directly from the companies. The dividends accruing to the three sevenths of the stock in the hands
of the liquidating trustees were paid back into their respective companies
after deducting the office and running expenses of the liquidating trustees.

MRS. GEORGE HELD.

Must Answer to the Common Pleas Court
at Canton, Accused of Murder.

CANTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. George was held to answer to common pleas court
at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, and her case will be investigated by the next grand jury.

The presiding justice of the peace, in passing on the case, said there was sufficient circumstantial evidence connecting Mrs. George with the crime to justify holding her for the investigation of the higher courts. She is held on the charge of murder in the first degree and cannot be admitted to bail.

SAID HE HADN'T THE POWER.

The Other Trustees, He Declared, Would
Have to Give Him the Authority to Produce Them--Told More of Distribution of Earnings of D. fendant Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The contempt
proceedings of the state of Ohio against
the officers of the Standard Oil trust
were resumed. John D. Rockefeller,
president of the company, took the chair again. The second day's session was held in a parlor of the New Amsterdam hotel.

Attorney General G. S. Monnett of Ohio was assisted by W. L. Flagg of this city and by E. B. Kinkaid of Ohio.
Mr. Rockefeller had with him as counsel Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland and M.
F. Elliott of this city.

Lawyer Kinkaid resumed the examination of Mr. Rockefeller. He wanted to know more about the distribution of earnings of the defendant company.

Mr. Rockefeller said that on March 17, 1892, $3,219,540 in earnings were distributed in accordance with the order of the Ohio court that the trust be dissolved.

Although Mr. Rockefeller said the day before that the books of the company were at the service of the commission, he stated that he could not show the books of the corporation without an order from the other trustees.

Mr. Rockefeller said the following
were the trustees of the liquidating
trust on Nov. 9, 1897: John D. Rockefeller of New York, Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, F. B. Squire of Cleveland, Martin Snider of Cleveland and
A. M. McGregor of New York.

"How did the defendant company
asked Mr. Rockefeller.

"The Ohio company sold its tank cars
to the trust for $3,500,000, and it considered that $3,219,540 could safely be distributed, and did so."

"What are the methods of the Standard Oil company of Ohio since the dissolution of the trust?"

"Just the same as those of any other Ohio stock company. It is managed by its directors, who are elected by the stockholders."

In answer to further questions Mr.
Rockefeller explained that three-sev-
enths of the entire trust certificates
which had not yet been canceled were handled by the liquidation trustees.
The other four-sevenths of the original
constituent companies was held now

by individual holders who received
their dividends directly from the companies. The dividends accruing to the three sevenths of the stock in the hands
of the liquidating trustees were paid
back into their respective companies
after deducting the office and running expenses of the liquidating trustees.

A BLOODY RIOT.

Ten Killed and Many Wounded
In Illinois.

THE STRIKERS DETERMINED

Exchanged Shots With Imported Negroes and Deputies on a Train.

Men In the Stockade Also Fired on the Miners—The Train Hurried Out of the Town of Virden to Springfield, Where the Wounded Were Taken Off—Manager of a Company Store Badly Wounded and Assaulted by Strikers, After a Sensational Fight—President Hunter of Illinois Mineworkers Kicked From a Train by Deputies and Critically Injured—Troops Sent to Virden.

VIRIDEN, Ill., Oct. 13.—The union miners and imported negroes have had a desperate battle here. A Chicago and Alton special train bearing 200 negro miners from the south arrived at the stockade around the Chicago-Virden Coal company's mines and immediately a terrific firing began. Ten were known to be killed and many wounded.

The known dead are:
Ed Welsh, Springfield.
Frank Bilyeu, Springfield.
Albert Smith, Mt. Olive.
Joe Kitterly, Mt. Olive.
Ernest Keutner, Mt. Olive.

Olive, shot in stomach; Joe Sprin, Mt. Olive, shot in arm; Burt Tigar, engineer Chicago and Alton, shot in arm; J. F. Eyster, superintendent Climax Trading company, shot and beaten.

A newspaper representative secured admittance to the stockade.

The dead are:
A. W. Morgan of Chicago.
Ex-Lieutenant of Police Tom Preston of Chicago, killed by detail of militia while firing at miners, who were ordered to halt.

The wounded are:
H. Gritgesell, shot in shoulder.
O. J. Snyder, shot in face and legs.
James Sikes, Chicago, shot in leg.
Frank Wilder, Chicago, shot in arm.
Thomas McEntree, Chicago, shot in leg.

J. W. Moanan, St. Louis, slightly injured.

P. J. Hanan, slightly injured.

J. H. Smith, Chicago, slightly injured.

Of those on the train three went to Springfield.

W. W. Carroll, a deputy sheriff, was killed.

The wounded were:

William H. Clarkson, an inmate of the old soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kan., deputy; skull crushed; will die.

H. A. Kyger of Bloomington, engineer on train; shot through arm.

William Masser of St. Louis, deputy; shot through head, shoulders and hands; will probably recover.

James Palmer, deputy; shot in left side of face, arm and side; will recover.

Palmer has just been mustered out of the Third Nebraska regiment.

Patrick Mack of Virden, employed by the operators of the Chicago-Virden shaft; bullet went through his thigh; will recover.

Ernest Ryan, a colored miner from Alabama; bullet went through his head.

President Hunter of the Illinois district United Mineworkers' critically injured.

Joseph Long, Mt. Olive.

For the past two weeks rumors have reached Virden daily that a train having negroes from Alabama would reach the city, and the Chicago and Alton depot has been surrounded day and night by vigilant miners determinedly awaiting their arrival.

When the Chicago and Alton limited passed through enroute to Chicago an hour late, displaying flags on the rear, indicating that a special was following, word was spread and a dense crowd of miners lined the station platform while another crowd collected at the entrance of the stockade a half mile north of the station.

D. B. Kiley, a Chicago and Alton detective, stood guard at a switch to see it was not tampered with.

The special train passed the station and signal shots were fired from the south end of the train announcing the special's arrival. Immediately shots were fired from the moving train and outside and the battle was on.

ued to the stockade, the miners firing it all along the route and the negro passengers returning the fire. The moment the train reached the stockade the miners opened a desperate fire with winchesters, revolvers and firearms of all descriptions. The negroes on the train answered with a steady fire. The miners and the train were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and the shooting sounded like a continuous volley.

Engineer Burt Tigar received a bullet in the arm and dropped from his seat. His fireman seized the throttle, pulled it open, and with a jerk the train was under speed, carrying a load of wounded negro passengers to Springfield. How many were wounded is not known. The train stopped at the stockade but two minutes. Its departure did not cause the firing to cease. The tower of the stockade was filled with sharpshooters, armed with winchesters and they kept up a steady fire into the crowd of union miners. Eyewitnesses say the dead miners were killed after the train had departed.

The supply and provision store of the Chicago-Virden Coal company is known as the Climax Trading company, with Superintendent J. F. Eyster in charge. He was sitting in his store when his telephone rang, and he was instructed from the stockade to secure physicians and hurry them to the place. Eyster jumped into his delivery wagon, and, securing two doctors, rushed them to the mines. He returned to his store, climbed out of his wagon and was just entering the door when the cry was raised that Manager Fred Lukens of the mines was with him. With a rush a throng of infuriated miners pressed toward the store. Eyster ran behind a counter with a revolver in each hand. The miners pressed hard after, and, as Eyster sprang upstairs, he and the miners began shooting simultaneously.

He ran to the top of the building and jumped behind the chimney, while the miners ran into the street and opened fire on him again. Chips flew from the brick chimney, and Eyster ran from cover across to the roof of another store, firing into the street below as he ran. From there he crossed to the roof of the bank of Virden, where he reloaded his revolvers. Blood was flowing from a wound in his side, but, with dogged determination, against terrible odds he continued his flight. Jumping to the roof of the Rae & Gosh drug store, he halted behind a projection from the roof of the building he had just left, and emptied both his six chambered revolvers.

Then springing from cover Eyster dashed ahead amid the rain of bullets to the roof of the Steed building, the upper story of which is known as Miners' hall. He either fell or jumped through the skylight and landed in the arms of a crowd of miners, who seized and carried him down stairs to the street. Other hands seized the almost unconscious man and he was dragged into the middle of the street. Local policemen drove back the crowd and carried Eyster to the city square across the street and laid him on the grass. Eyster was motionless and supposedly dead. The police left him lying and attempted to disperse the crowd.

In a few minutes Eyster was seen to raise his hand and wipe the blood from his face. Two men sprang at him, and, with the ferocity of tigers, began jumping on his body and striking him on the head with stones. With a yell the angry crowd charged into the square to kill Eyster. The police charged in a body and fought their way to the center of the mob, where they took a stand over the prostrate, battered, bleeding man. A carrier was procured and Eyster was taken to the Buckles hotel. He had been shot through the groin and is terribly battered about the head. The physician states that he has barely a chance for recovery.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 13.—The special train on the Chicago and Alton which brought the Alabama negroes from Virden last night had eight wounded men—all deputies except one, who was a colored miner, who was taken to the Springfield city hospital. Of these one man died, William W. Carroll, a deputy sheriff.

John M. Hunter of Pontiac, the president of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America, lies at the Collins House in a critical condition. Mr. Hunter got on the train which bore the colored miners to this city and engaged in conversation with two of the colored miners. Some of the deputy sheriffs saw Hunter, and when the train was between North Grand avenue and the north shaft, and was going at the rate of 18 miles an hour, it is estimated, the deputies attacked Hunter and pushed him off the train.

GOVERNOR RESPONSIBLE.

President of Coal Company Determined to See How Far He Can Evade His Duties.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—President C. W. Loucks of the Chicago-Virden Coal company, who has arrived from the vicinity of the trouble, made the following statement:

"Our position has been defined right along by the press, as the public can ascertain, and we simply desire to state that our employees arrived at Virden about 12:30 today (Wednesday). We stopped the train opposite the gates, so that the men could go from the train into our works, when immediately the mob fired from all directions and, very naturally, our men defended themselves.

The consequences in full we do not know positively as yet.

"As to our future action, we propose to follow in the future as we have in the past, legal procedure in the obtaining of our legal rights and shall take proper steps to secure redress against all who prompted, aided, abetted or participated in the riots of today, whether they are miners, miners' officials, state officials or others. We shall determine before we are through whether the government of this state can class our colored population as ex-convicts, scoundwags, etc., with impunity, and whether the colored citizens of this country can have their rights under the constitution set aside at the whim and pleasure of the government of Illinois. We shall determine for ourselves and others in this state just how far a governor can annul and evade the duties placed upon him by the constitution and statutes of this state."

BLAMED THE OPERATORS.

Gov. Tanner Gave Out a Startling Interview—Will Prevent Importing Laborers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 13.—Governor Tanner said, when interviewed, that he was confident that there would be no more rioting at Virden. "I have asked the secretary of war to place at my demand the Fifth regiment Illinois volunteers, now at Springfield," he said, "and have ordered four companies of Sons of Veterans' regiment to leave for Virden early in the morning. I intend to have enough troops on the scene to disarm the men who have caused this bloodshed, and furthermore, I intend to take such action as will prevent any further attempt to import labor into this state. I don't intend to have any more trouble of this kind. My advice up to this hour indicate that the first estimates on the number of killed and wounded were too high. I do not believe that the list of dead will exceed 15, if it reaches that. The wounded will probably number less than 30."

EPISCOPAL MEETING.

House of Bishops Favored San Francisco For Next Meeting Place—Church Building Commission.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The house of bishops of the Episcopal convention voted to hold the convention of 1901 at San Francisco.

In the deputies an effort was made to concur in this action, but on objection to immediate consideration, the resolution of the bishops went to the calendar.

Incidental to the convention was a meeting of the American church building fund commission. The annual report showed that its fund amounts to $343,890, an increase during the last three years of $68,000.

The officers elected include the following: President, Rt. Rev. John Williams; vice presidents, Rt. Revs. Henry B. Whipple, William C. Doane, George D. N. Gillespie, Thomas A. Starkey, Cortlandt Whitehead and Bishops Johnson of Los Angeles, Nichols of California and Talbot of Central Pennsylvania; secretary general, James G. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Rev. J. Newton Perkins; treasurer, George C. Thomas of Philadelphia, and assistant treasurer, E. W. Roberts of New York; also a board of 17 trustees.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE.

Pope Appointed Archbishop Chappelle to Cuba—Catholic Archbishops Met.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Cardinal Gibbons, who is here attending the meeting of the archbishops at the Catholic university, received a cablegram from Rome announcing that the pope had appointed Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans as apostolic delegate to Cuba. He will retain his position at New Orleans. He is now in Rome.

The sessions of the archbishops were private. Chappelle, Riordan and Ireland were absent.

At the close of the meeting Archbishop Kain, who acted as secretary, said there was nothing to give to the public, as the proceedings had been confined entirely to the internal affairs of the church. The archbishops completed their work.

TERRORIZED HONOLULU.

Drunken Officers Declared Martial Law. Will Be Courtmartialled.

HONOLULU, Oct. 13.—On the night of Oct. 3, Second Lieutenant Merriam, United States army, son of General Merriam, and First Lieutenant Wheelock, New York volunteers, both being intoxicated, declared martial law in Honolulu. Wheelock was provost marshal, in charge of mounted infantry. For two hours things were lively. Citizens were ordered off the streets. Orders were enforced by mounted men under Wheelock's command.

Sailors were chased aboard their ships and two captains and a customs officer had to scramble for safety. General King was very angry when he heard what was being done. The two officers will be courtmartialled.

John M. Forbes, Sr., Dead.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—John M. Forbes, 3r., president of the board of directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, died at his home in Milton.

PEACE JUBILEE.

President Royally Entertained
at the Omaha Exposition.

ABOUT 125,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

The President Made a Speech, In Which He Said We Could Not Shirk Our International Responsibilities—Praise For Our Soldiers and Sailors in the War.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—Not one feature was lacking to make the peace jubilee at the trans-Mississippi exposition an unprecedented success. The weather was delightful, an ideal October day.

The president of the United States has been kept busy acknowledging the most enthusiastic greetings from his western constituents.

Admissions numbered about 125,000.

President McKinley, in the course of his speech, thanked the people of Omaha for his welcome and extended greeting to Omaha, the state of Nebraska and to the people of all the states of the trans-Mississippi group.

"One of the great laws of life is progress, and nowhere have the principles of this law been so strikingly illustrated as in the United States. A century and a decade of our national life have turned doubt into conviction; changed experiment into demonstration; revolutionized old methods and won new triumphs which have challenged the attention of the world. This is true not only of the accumulation of material wealth and advance in education, science, invention and manufactures, but above all in the opportunities to the people for their own elevation, which have been secured by wise free government.

"Hitherto in peace and in war, with additions to our territory and slight changes in our laws, we have steadily enforced the spirit of the constitution secured to us by the noble self-sacrifice and far-seeing sagacity of our ancestors. We have avoided the temptations of conquest in the spirit of gain. With an increasing love for our institutions and an abiding faith in their stability, we have made the triumphs of our system of government in the progress and prosperity of our people an inspiration to the whole human race. Confronted at this moment by new and grave problems, we must recognize that their solution will effect not ourselves alone, but others of the family of nations.

"In this age of frequent interchange and mutual dependency, we cannot shirk our international responsibilities if we would; they must be met with courage and wisdom and we must follow duty even if the desire opposes. No delirium can be too mature or self-control too constant in this solemn hour of our history. We must avoid the temptation of undue aggression and aim to secure only such results as will promote our own and the general good."

At another point he said:

"On April 25, for the first time for more than a generation, the United States sounded the call to arms. The banners of war were unfurled; the best and bravest from every section responded; a mighty army was enrolled; the north and south vied with each other in patriotic devotion; science was invoked to furnish its most effective weapons; factories were rushed to supply equipments; the youth and the veteran joined in freely offering their services to the country; volunteers and regulars and all the people rallied to the support of the republic."

He then spoke of what we had done with a small navy. Although having a small standing army, we soon mobilized a great force, and $50,000,000 was voted for national defense without debate or division, a mere indication of our mighty reserve power. Then he said in part:

"But if this is true of the beginning of the war what shall we say of it now, with hostilities suspended and peace near at hand, as we fervently hope? Matchless in its results; unequalled in its completeness and the quick succession with which victory followed victory; attained earlier than it was believed to be possible, so comprehensive in its sweep that every thoughtful man feels the weight of its responsibility which has been so suddenly thrust upon us, and above all and beyond all the valor of the American army and the majesty of the American name stand forth in unsullied glory, while the humanity of our purposes and the magnanimity of our conduct have given to war, always horrible, touches of noble generosity, Christian sympathy and charity, and examples of human grandeur which can never be lost to mankind."

MASO TO VISIT MANZANILLO.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 13.—A dis-

patch from Manzanillo to the office of The Associated Press here says now that the American flag is flying over the city. The Cuban element has come to the surface. The people are seemingly enthusiastic. The mayor and collector had both received instructions not to turn over their offices to the Americans except under protest and in the presence of the consul and a notary, but Colonel Ray suspended them. Not a cent was found in the treasury.

President Maso of the insurgent government is to visit the city.

A Paris Newspaper Gave a Theatrical Entertainment.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The American peace commission has engaged in its first function outside of purely diplomatic lines. The Figaro entertained the members of both commissions with a stage performance, in which Coquelin, Loie Fuller and others took part.

The occasion was informal and pleasing.

TO MOVE SOUTHWARD.

Second Corps Expected to Commence Leaving Camp Meade Oct. 27.

Sick Soldiers Moved.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Oct. 13.—When General Graham returns from Washington he will bring with him the official orders as to the representation at Philadelphia during the peace jubilee. If permission is granted by the war department General Young's division will be sent to Philadelphia and from there south.

General Graham will confer with his staff upon his return regarding the plans for moving the troops. As the other army corps are to move at the same time it is thought that one regiment a day will be all that can be sent from Camp Meade, as the orders from Washington are that only one regiment shall reach the new camp each day. The Second corps is expected to commence moving Oct. 27.

Colonel Girard sent 24 sick soldiers to leading hospitals and 24 more to Harrisburg and Lebanon hospitals.

General Graham has issued an order that no more furloughs will be granted to enlisted men until after the movement of the corps. The men in hospitals who are able to travel alone will be furloughed for 30 days on recommendation of the hospital surgeons.

Corporal Samuel McCamant, Company D, Eighth Pennsylvania, a son of ex-Auditor General McCamant, is seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home in Harrisburg.

A large donation from Providence, R. I., contributed through the Ladies' War Relief of Rhode Island, reached the Harrisburg hospital.

GRAHAM TESTIFIED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Before the war investigating board General Graham, now in command at Camp Meade, stated that he had no complaint to make as to the management of the war department, but he thought the war was such an emergency that the department was not at first prepared to meet its demands as promptly as desirable.

He believed that the proximity of the tents to one another at Camp Alger was responsible more than any other cause for the sickness there, and he said that the medical officers also were of this opinion. He thought the want of water for bathing purposes and the habits of the men in eating other food than that prescribed by the regulations had had a deleterious influence.

General Graham stated that, while commissary supplies were plentiful, the men were often in need because the regimental officers were not sufficiently impressed with the importance of drawing their food.

Taking it all in all, General Graham said he had no doubt that the medical department at Camp Alger was administered in a competent manner. With the reforms inaugurated Camp Alger would have been very healthful and the removal to Camp Meade was largely sentimental and in obedience to public clamor. He declared Camp Meade to be an ideal camp and well supplied.

He said he would recommend that in the future there should be regular officers in all volunteer regiments; that camps should be farther apart; that arrangements should be made for erasing all effete matter. He stated that some of the officers from civil life had proved efficient, but that others were incorrigible. Some of them were too old to learn.

KNIGHTS DRILLED.

About 20,000 Saw Them at Pittsburgh, Banquet to Grand Master

Thomas.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—About 20,000 people saw Knights Templar commanderies drill at Schenley Park. Those participating were: Louisville No. 1, St. Bernard of Chicago and Damascus of Detroit. A handsome silk banner was presented to each.

A great banquet was tendered Grand Master Thomas last night.

MORMONS ARE AT WORK

Two of Them Visiting In West End.

A YELLOW CREEK EPISODE

As Recalled by the Presence of the Evangelists--They Talk Much Concerning the Church They Represent, and Distribute Literature--All the News.

Two very smooth individuals are visiting homes in the West End. They have a clerical look and introduce themselves invariably as evangelists of the church of Latter Day Saints. These are probably the same parties who have been working throughout the surrounding country.

They endeavored to get leave to preach in the various school houses, but in no case succeeded, except at Yellow Creek, where, it is said, the people were so indignant that the preachers thought it best for their health to leave. These individuals exhibit and leave literature with the women of the house, and, by the way, it is invariably the women of the house who are visited during the hours when the men are necessarily absent. The literature reads all right, and, of course, no mention is made of the peculiar and unique feature of the Mormon church. It would seem that the West End is more than usually afflicted with people of peculiar views.

Scarlet Fever.

Health Officer Warren says there are no more cases of diphtheria reported. As every precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the disease, it is safe to conclude that there will be no great number of cases.

The three cases so far reported have been isolated cases and in different parts of town.

The News of Wellsville.

Miss Kate Kerr has returned from her trip to Pittsburg.

Mrs. L. E. Hoskins, of Irondale, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. M. N. Russell, who has been visiting Mrs. Steven Smith, corner of Ninth and Center streets, returned yesterday to her home in Jefferson county. Miss Effie Worthington, who has been visiting Mrs. F. J. Riley, left yesterday afternoon for her home in Brilliant.

Miss Lucy Evans went out to her home in Irondale yesterday afternoon.

Miss Florence Smith, of Inverness, is visiting her brother, Frank Smith.

Miss Tillie Watson, who has been visiting relatives in town and in this vicinity for the past month, returned to her home in Osceola, Iowa, today.

T. P. Dolan, who has been under the doctors care for the past few days, was able to report for duty yesterday.

Miss Cal Bowers, Miss Marv Noss and G. D. Lowry went to Pittsburg this morning.

D. F. Smith, Broadway, has returned to his home after a month's stay at the state hospital in Massillon. He was much benefited in some ways by the treatment which he received while there but is yet very feeble in regard to his general health.

Miss Annie Lawrence, of Hammondsville, who has been visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Orr, returned home yesterday.

G. F. McCready, of the Scotch settlement, who has been attending the convalescence in Pittsburg since Monday, returned home yesterday evening.

Rev. N. K. Crowe is in town this week on business.

Mrs. Thomas McCombs, of Wattsville; Mrs. Mary McPherson and Miss Ida McQuoid, of Gavers, who have been the guests of J. M. Leclerc, returned to their homes today.

Mrs. M. S. Carroll went to Hammondsville to visit friends today.

Dr. Robert McCready, of the East End, Pittsburg, came down on the morning train to visit his brother, G. F. McCready, for a few days.

Rev. A. C. Jones is organizing a boys' choir in the Church of the Ascension. During the time of the former pastor, Reverend Williams, a flourishing choir was organized, but it finally went to pieces. Now, however, the prospects for a good choir of boy singers is most encouraging.

May Play Against Toronto.

Manager Reark, of the Rugby football team, will endeavor to book a game with the Toronto team to be played here one week from next Saturday.

The local team will practice considerably before the game, and expect to present a much stronger team than they had in the game with Monaca.

AS TO EXPANSION.

What the Leading Democratic Paper of Ohio Says About It.

The doubt about what to do with the Philippine Islands remains. Our commanding attitude toward them was part of the general condition that brought about the signing of the protocol, under which a peace commission is now at work. It became necessary to hold what we gained by force pending a settlement with Spain. That settlement has not been made.

No American worthy the name--no man in whose veins runs patriotic blood--can restrain pride in the commanding position now occupied by the United States. We have taken a place not simply as one of the great nations, but also of one of the great powers of the world. If we desire we can step in and become a party to the dismemberment of empires, and a partner with the most powerful nations of Europe in the wholesale revision of maps. We can open up new countries for our surplus enterprise and stimulate our shipbuilding and commerce. We can have a tremendous colonial and provincial policy, and make the stars and stripes close to a home port in every sea of the world.

We have come to a crucial moment in the history of the greatest republic of time. We have rescued Cuba and acquired Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands; but all that is in keeping with the home policy, if we may so call it, that was encouraged by the fathers and that has been pursued through nearly a century and a quarter of history. So far we have fulfilled destiny, and done it not too rapidly. To go further is the inspiration of one day's battle, not the learning that comes from protracted study of grave questions. A very solemn proposition is now in the hands of the president of the United States and the peace commissioners appointed by him. It will be their duty to examine the current question in the light of reason as well as patriotism. It will be their obligation to weigh carefully the popular sentiment, and at the same time to give cold-blooded consideration to such objections as there may be to the acquisition of the Philippines. Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.).

Jeffersonian Bimetallism.

The Boston Herald calls attention to the fact that the new discovery of Jeffersonian bimetallism, adopted as a subterfuge by some Democrats, has a weak foundation to rest upon. The father of Democracy might have believed in the silver dollar, but when he had control of national affairs he didn't turn out very many of the white cart wheels. During his first four years the mints coined but 144,738 silver dollars, and during his second term he seems to have been so thoroughly disgusted that he was responsible for just 321 white stove lids. These were turned out in 1805, and if other islands in the Caribbean over which the Spanish flag has floated for centuries will come to us unconditionally.

This is quite a triumph for expansion and ought to satisfy the most greedy expansionist. On the Pacific side we have the Sandwich Islands, it is any satisfaction to the white metallists they can take these dollars, if they can find them, and get from $1,000 to $5,000 for each and every one. But during 1806, 1807 and 1808 not a single silver dollar came from the mints. The white metal Democrats will have to find some other excuse for their vagaries. Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune (Rep.).

There are said to be fewer suicides among miners than among any other class of workmen.

MR. ROCKAFELLER may believe he has beaten the state of Ohio in his endeavor to show that the Standard Oil company does not come under the anti-trust law, but there have been men equally as brainy who made the same mistake.

It is gratifying to know that Ohio Republicans are entering heartily into the spirit of the campaign, and the best meetings known for several years are being held. But these same enthusiastic Republicans should not forget that to win the victory they must go to the polls and vote.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S address at the Omaha exposition was no disappointment. He dared to touch upon important matters, and said what his friends throughout the country expected him to say. His reference to the acquisition of territory showed that he is thoroughly acquainted with the facts, and his tribute to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy deserved the tremendous outburst of applause it received.

A LOSING FIGHT.

The Democrats are fighting Hon. R. W. Taylor on the sole ground that when the war came on he did not at once resign his seat in congress and enter the army.

They lose sight of the fact that all the good men of the country did not volunteer when President McKinley called for aid. Doubtless some of the newspaper writers who are now so earnestly abusing Mr. Taylor never thought of going to the front, excusing themselves on the ground that their business affairs would not then permit them to take up arms.

Mr. Taylor served his country well. He had been elected to congress for the purpose of voicing the sentiment of a great many people, and his duty was there. No one can say he did not perform that duty. He stood by the administration during the entire time, proving himself worthy of the trust imposed in him by his constituents. There is no attempt to detract from the meritorious services of Major Weybrecht, nor to belittle the position he gained as an officer of the Eighth, but it must not be forgotten that Mr. Taylor was at the same time not only doing his duty, but was working with might and main to uphold and maintain the patriotic policy of President McKinley.

Knights Templars Delighted
With the Conclave.

PILGRIMS HAVE COME HOME

Others Will Follow This Afternoon and This Evening, and by Tomorrow All Will Be Here—Not One Complaint of Treatment.

A number of Knights Templars of Pilgrim Commandery, have returned from Pittsburg well satisfied with the conclave. They had intended staying longer, but the three days made up a continuous round of pleasure, and some Knights believed they had enjoyed it to their capacity. A number returned yesterday afternoon, more early in the evening and a still larger number at night.

All are enthusiastic over the treatment they received, and say no city could have done better than Pittsburg. The arrangements were perfect, and the social functions passed off to the satisfaction of all.

"Pilgrim commandery enjoyed it. That's all we can say" said a leading member today. "We came home not because we could not enjoy the remainder of the time, but because we are mortal and flesh and bone will give in under such bounteous hospitality."

A number of Pilgrims are still in the city, and will remain there tomorrow. Room 10, courthouse, used by the local commandery as headquarters, will be vacated tomorrow night.

All returning Knights have many exchange badges from other commanderies. Liverpool's representation had handsome gold emblems of the order to give in exchange, while a large number of small pitchers, handsomely decorated, were given out.

DURING THE WINTER

Will Cars Be Run to West Virginia Side.

"The street railway company will run a car on the Virginia branch all winter" is the information that was given out by one of the officials last night.

The idea of running the cars over the line has been under consideration by the company for some time, but no definite conclusion was reached until recently. The cars will run, it is thought, from 8 o'clock in the morning until the same hour at night. The present schedule is from 12 noon till 11 o'clock at night.

THE SOLDIERS

Are Invited to Attend Services at the Second Presbyterian Church.

Rev. W. M. Crowe, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, East End, has invited the officers and soldiers of Company E to attend services next Sunday evening. He hopes as many as possible can will be there.

The Grand Army and Sons of Veterans are also asked to attend. A sermon especially adapted to the occasion will be delivered.

Remember the elocutionary recital at Junior Mechanics' hall, over postoffice, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18.

Fire Committee of Council Will Soon Buy a Good Team.

The fire committee of council are at present looking for a good team for the East End, and as soon as they can purchase horses that will be satisfactory at a reasonable figure they will be placed in that department.

An effort will be made to have the new department in perfect running order before the next meeting of council, and the only thing that remains to be done is the selection of the man to have charge of the place.

IN CUBA.

John B. Hoefgen Was There on Important Business.

When John B. Hoefgen, manager of the street railway, left the city a few weeks ago he did not say where he was going, but it has since been learned that he went to Cuba.

The gentleman's well known desire for investment prompts the belief that his journey was not altogether one of pleasure.

SPECTATORS INTERFERED

And a Man and Woman, Quarreling In a Saloon, Did Not Fight.

Last evening a wordy war occurred in an uptown saloon between a man and woman, and a large number of people congregated on the outside to hear the discussion. The man seemed to be very drunk and the woman threatened to give him a thrashing, but spectators interfered before they came to blows.

WARREN'S POTTERY

The Company Is Capitalized at $100,000.

A press dispatch from Warren says: "The Brewer Pottery company, which will erect a large establishment near this city, yesterday elected these officers: President, Mungo Brownlee; vice president and secretary, George P. Predmore; treasurer, S. W. Sigler. The company is capitalized at $100,000."

On the River.

Although the rain of Tuesday was heavy enough up the Allegheny to cause a rise, it will not come, because of the sudden cold snap yesterday. At the wharf this morning the stage was 3.3 feet and falling.

The low water has had a bad effect on Liverpool to some extent. It has been learned that several owners of small packets about Pittsburg had contracted to bring excursions to Liverpool during the conclave and were unable to do so on account of the low stages which have prevailed during the week.

Boats Not Far Away.

It is said that many of the boats plying on the Ohio river are within 12 hours run from Pittsburg. Several of the larger boats are now at Wheeling. They will all start north as soon as there is a few feet more of water.

SOME CANNOT AFFORD

To Contribute to the Lafayette Fund

To That Part of the Program For the Proposed Celebration—Educators In Other Parts of the Country Take the Same Stand on the Matter.

The matter of collecting money in the public schools for the purpose of aiding in the erection of a monument at Paris to General Lafayette is causing no end of discussion throughout the country, and East Liverpool is no exception. A prominent resident of the city agrees that no right minded person objects to the erection of a monument to the noble hero, but shows that thousands of school children cannot afford to contribute to any cause. The following article in support of that position is taken from the New England Journal of Education:

"This is Lafayette's year. The schools will do well to have appropriate exercises some time before June. His service to America entitles him to the appreciative recognition of the schools. But this does not carry with it an endorsement of attempt to raise a fund."

"There is a well promoted scheme for the raising of a fund for a Lafayette monument in Paris by the school children of the United States. It is ingracious to oppose so well intentioned a plan is this, but the Journal does not believe in this method of raising funds. There is running parallel with this a plan to raise money in the schools for a United States naval vessel to take the place of the Maine. Assuming that these two are all right, that every dollar raised will go for the objects designated, it opens the way for no end of mischief."

"Every grand, philanthropic scheme for raising money by such collections that we have taken the trouble to look into directs a considerable part of the funds into the pockets of the canvassers or is expended in printing, office rent, and postage stamps. There are many men and women whose whole business is the launching of schemes for collecting money for good causes for the purpose of getting a living out of promoting the plan."

"This is probably not the purpose of either of these movements, but it is possible that quite a portion of the money given by the children will go into traveling expenses, postage, printing, stationery, clerical services and office hire. If not in these cases, their success would tempt the professional promoters of philanthropic schemes for selfish purposes to invade the schools like an army. The whole thing is dangerous."

SUMMONED TO WOOSTER.

Captain Hill Is Today Calling on Colonel Hard.

Capt. W. M. Hill left today for Wooster, where he has been summoned by Colonel Hard.

It is understood his visit is in regard to arrangements to be made for the mustering out of the regiment, but Captain Hill will give no opinion as to why he has been called. Many of the boys of the company are expressing an opinion that they do not believe they will be mustered out for a few months at least.

NEW CARS.

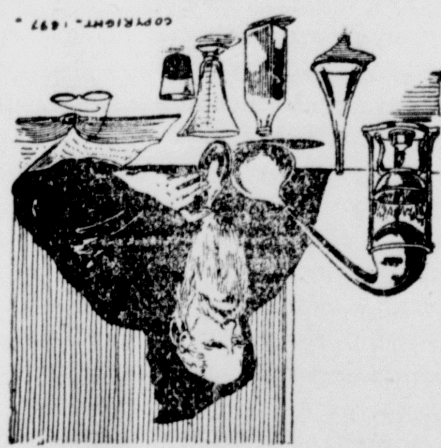

They Have Been Shipped and Will Soon Be Here.

The new winter cars ordered by the company in this city from a firm in St. Louis were shipped from the factory Monday afternoon last. They are now expected to arrive in the lower yards not later than next Wednesday.

It will take but a short time to change the motors, and they will be running by the last of next week.

No Business This Morning.

No arrests were made during last night or this morning and as a result marked quiet prevailed about city hall today. Mayor Bough was not in his office, and the jail door, wide open, was a sure sign that nothing was being done.

BRYAN DENIES HIS NAME

Says He Did Not Sign It to Note and Mortgage

SOLD TO HON. DAVID BOYCE

And For the Amount of Which Suit Has Been Brought Against F. E. Grosshans. Cases Considered in Common Pleas Court.

LISBON, Oct. 13.—[Special]—The case of Hon. David Boyce against F. E. Grosshans was the first taken up in court this morning.

Mr. Boyce seeks to recover from the defendant $200 on a note and mortgage which he claims were forged by Alex Stevenson and were sold to him by the defendant. The names of J. W. Bryan and his wife appear on both documents. The defense claims that he did not know the note and mortgage to be forged, and acted in good faith when the sale was made.

John Bryan, Edna Bryan, Thomas Stevenson and David Boyce were sworn as witnesses for the plaintiff. Bryan was the first witness, and when shown the note and mortgage said he did not sign either, nor did he authorize anyone to sign them for him.

Mrs. Edna Bryan testified substantially the same as her husband. Thomas Stevenson said he was never the owner of the papers, and did not endorse them. The note and mortgage purported to be given to Stevenson.

Hon. David Boyce said that April 7 1897, Grosshans asked if he had $200 to lend on a good mortgage. He replied that he had, and note and mortgage were brought to him at the First National bank. The mortgage had not been recorded. Mr. Boyce asked that it be done, and it was placed in the recorder's hands. He said Mr. Grosshans said the loan was a good one, the property was valuable and Bryan had paid $600 for it. A check for $200 was given Mr. Grosshans. He began to think the papers were forgeries after Alex Stevenson's actions became known.

THE WOMAN WON

In the Case That Went From Wellsville to Lisbon.

LISBON, Oct. 13.—[Special]—The verdict of the jury in the case of Kate Timlyn against Harry Kountz was guilty. The jury was out only five minutes. A number of letters added spice to the testimony. Judge Taylor gave Miss Timlyn a judgment of $250. He will also pay the costs of prosecution. The charge was one of a delicate nature. The child has been dead some time.

Aaron V. Broomal has filed a petition asking $155 from Galen Mortland. It is claimed on a promissory note. Lemuel J. Nold and Eli Garretson claim some interest in Butler land owned by the defendant, and are asked to set up their claim.

J. J. Seldner, of Baltimore, has sued George L. Seldner and 12 others as heirs, executors and trustees of the estate of Eva Seldner, for foreclosure of a mortgage of $12,000 on 582 acres in St. Clair township, including grist mills, saw mills and machinery. The mortgage was given in 1885.

The case of Celina Chamberlain against J. L. Chamberlain was submitted by consent to Judge Taylor upon the pleadings and evidence and judgment given plaintiff for $130.67.

SOME MEETINGS.

Democrats Have Asked For Rice and Sherwood, of Canton.

The Democratic central committee have not as yet secured speakers to address meetings in this city but before the campaign is over several addresses will be delivered here.

The state committee is expected to furnish them with a speaker of national reputation and the committee have made a request for certain parties whose names they will not give out. In addition to this the committee will probably endeavor to secure Mayor Rice, of Canton, and General Sherwood to make speeches here. A meeting will be held tomorrow evening when it is probable some action will be taken toward making arrangements to open the campaign.

MASHED A CAR.

Trouble on the Street Railway in West End, This Morning.

The first street car smashup that has happened for many months occurred this morning.

The tracks are being moved out in Jethro street and a couple of rails had been removed. Nancy Hanks was standing on one side of the place when car 35 came from the opposite direction, and jumping off of the end of the rails struck Nancy Hanks. As a result the front platform was broken from 35, while the Nancy received but slight damage.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Mountford and daughter, of Second street, were Pittsburg visitors today.

—George S. Greisinger, of Steubenville, spent yesterday in the city attending to some important business. He returned to his home this morning.

Sergeant Hanley's Dog Was Killed by a Street Car.

Sergt. Frank Hanley is now mourning the loss of his dog, killed by a street car last evening.

The animal was valued very highly by the sergeant as a pet. It was secured by him when Company E was at Camp Alger. When the order came for them to leave for Cuba "Alger," as the dog was called, was carefully boxed up and sent to this city.

ANOTHER CASE.

Scarlet Fever Has Appeared in the Family of W. E. Rex.

The second case of scarlet fever in several months was this morning reported to Health Officer Ogden.

The party afflicted is the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rex, Seventh and Franklin streets. The house was quarantined at once and every precaution will be taken to prevent the disease from spreading.

Lively Times in the Yards.

Several cars loaded with potatoes were received in the lower freight yards this morning, and for a time there were some lively scenes.

Those to whom the cars were consigned were unable to get at them on account of trains blockading the roadway. The matter was soon straightened out.

BIG CROWD WILL COME

If the County Organization Accepts the Invitation

OF THE LOCAL ENDEAVORERS

The Convention Which Meets in Lisbon This Week Will Consider Our Claim For the Gathering Next October—Chances For Success.

Unless all efforts fail the next convention of the county Endeavor societies will be held in the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church last evening held a very important business meeting, and it was decided to change the constitution so that every member of the society will sign a new pledge and constitution at the end of every six months. The reason given for this is that many members of the society do not attend the consecration services and there are many names read out to which no response is given. By the new plan only the persons signing the pledges will have their names read out at the consecration services. The plan will undoubtedly reduce the membership of the society but it will do much toward increasing the spiritual welfare.

It was also decided to extend an earnest invitation to the county convention now being held at Lisbon to hold their next session at the First church in this city. The invitation will be extended by Dr. John Lloyd Lee, and there is but little doubt that it will be accepted.

NOT A BIG DAY.

Not Much Freight Was Handled Yesterday.

Not much freight was handled at the depot yesterday, but still the rollers were kept quite busy. The bulk of the shipments are going west and south, but this is not an unusual occurrence as the room for trade in the west and south is greater than the east and north. Receipts are very brisk, and the wareroom is now crowded with freight.

Taste of Boiled Water.

In advocating the practice of boiling water (and milk) of uncertain purity, Professor Bizzozero combats the prejudice against boiled water as a beverage. He maintains that the "taste" frequently complained of in boiled water is really caused by the kettle and can scarcely be due to the absence of dissolved air, of which water from wells of great depth often contains very little.

LOGAN WAS DISMISSED

He Was Found Innocent of Assault and Battery.

BIG CROWD AT THE TRIAL

Where Four Witnesses Told the Story of an Unusual Happening—The Outgrowth of a Matter Settled by Squire Hill Last Week.

The case of Homer Twaddle against John Logan, a 14-year-old boy, for assault and battery, was heard last evening in the court of Squire Hill.

The parties acted as their own attorneys, and the large crowd which attended the trial were furnished with plenty of amusement. Last week the father of Logan had Twaddle arrested for kicking his boy, and Twaddle plead guilty to the charge and was fined $6.60, which he paid, and immediately entered a counter charge against Logan.

Four witnesses were subpoenaed on the case. According to the testimony given one day last week Logan was running through the shop in which Twaddle worked and accidentally ran into that gentleman. Twaddle immediately grabbed Logan and shook him severely and threatened to do him bodily injury. When released Logan picked up a small stone about the size of a marble and threw it at Twaddle, striking him on the apron. Twaddle did not like this, and making a rush for the small boy, caught him and kicked him severely.

It was proved that Logan was not standing more than five feet from Twaddle when he threw the stone, and as a consequence he could not have injured that gentleman to any great extent. Squire Hill dismissed the case and assessed the costs on the plaintiff.

ANOTHER CASE

Comes From the River Front to a Squire's Court.

Shantyboat town has once more found its way into court. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Love entered a charge in the court of Squire Hill against James Hooks who she claims attempted to provoke a breach of the peace by calling her hard and insulting names.

Constable Miller arrested Hooks and he plead not guilty and was released upon his own recognizance and will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon.

ASHES OF COLUMBUS.

Rev. Dr. William Short Says They Are Not at Havana, but at Santo Domingo—Profound Respect Paid to His Relics.

Rev. Dr. William Short in a letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat about the remains of Columbus says: The remains which Spain is removing from Havana are not those of Christopher Columbus. As one of the few citizens of the United States who have seen and had in his hands the veritable and genuine relics of the great discoverer, I have several times called the attention of the public to an incident in modern history which entirely disproves the Havana claim.

After the treaty of Basel, in 1795, when Spain ceded to France her part of the island of Santo Domingo, she reserved the privilege of removing the bones of the illustrious admiral from the cathedral there, where they had been since 1536 or 1541, to Spanish soil. But when the bones were brought from Seville and placed in the cathedral at Santo Domingo, no monument or inscription was made to mark the exact place where they were deposited. Moreau St. Mery, writing in 1783, 12 years before the time of the supposed removal to Havana, says that "their location had become a matter of absolute doubt and uncertainty," but when the transfer was about to take place, a search was made by excavating in the chancel of the cathedral, about where the relic was supposed to be. The record states that they came upon "the remains of some deceased person," but there was no inscription or anything by which they could be identified. The records of the cathedral were claimed to have been destroyed when the soldiers of Drake pillaged the city, over two centuries ago, so it was thought there was no way of arriving at any absolute certainty. The remains of this "deceased person" were, however, taken to Havana and deposited in the cathedral there with great pomp and ceremony. For over three-quarters of a century no question was raised as to these being the veritable remains of the great admiral. Washington Irving accepted it as a fact, and nearly all our school histories so state it.

But in the year 1877 the Rev. Canon Bellini, while making some alterations in the chancel of the cathedral at Santo Domingo, came upon a small crypt underneath the tiling of the chancel floor. Thinking that the find might prove of historic value, in order to have witnesses to substantiate whatever might be revealed, before proceeding to open the crypt, he sent for the archbishop, several of the state officials and a number of the foreign consuls, among whom was our representative, Mr. Paul Jones. After their arrival the doors were shut to keep out the crowd, and the process of exploration was continued. On the removal of the stone lid or cover of the crypt a leaden box was discovered about 18 inches long by about 18 1/2 inches deep and wide. This little box or casket was removed and found to contain a quantity of dust and quite a number of pieces of bones, which medical men readily identified as the bones of a man. A small plate lay upon the box and a couple of screws which it is supposed fastened the plate to a wooden box which originally contained the casket, but which had entirely rotted away. On one side of this plate, of silver, very much tarnished, was an inscription which became plainly legible after rubbing the plate and was "A. Cristobal Colon," which, as we would read it, is Admiral Christopher Columbus. On examining the leaden casket, which had likewise become much oxidized, other inscriptions were found, which, after a little rubbing, could also be easily deciphered. On the top of the lid was "D de la A., P'ier A'te," which was interpreted in several ways, but the following was considered to be the probable one: "Descubridor de la America, Primer Almirante"—i. e., "Discoverer of America, First Admiral." On the underside of the lid was also found the following: "Ill'tre y Es'cog do Varou, Don Cristoval Colon," which translated means, "The Most Illustrious and Enlightened Squire, Christopher Columbus."

This find caused the greatest excitement in Santo Domingo and filled the authorities with amazement. The most careful record was kept of the examination and was certified to by those present. Previous to that time there had been little doubt that Spain had removed the remains of Columbus to Havana, but this find was convincing proof that a mistake had been made and that the relics taken to Havana were those of some one else, probably of Don Diego, the son of the admiral, which were known to have been deposited near by. While in Santo Domingo I examined the evidence carefully and became convinced that the bones of Columbus never were removed from the cathedral there. Mr. J. Curson Brevoort in an article in The Magazine of American History makes the same concession. Spain, of course, claimed fraud, and, though her own consul was present at the find and testified as to the accuracy of the investigations, yet he was at once superseded. Never have I seen relics of saint or patriot treated with more profound re-

Flowers are the poetry of the earth; babies the sonnets of humanity. Banish the smiles, the dimples and the laughter of childhood and the world would become a barren wilderness, inhabited by savages. Woman's ultimate mission, duty and joy on earth are comprised in the one word, "Motherhood." Multitudes of women fail of this mission because of weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. They do not understand that disorders of this description unfit them for wifehood and motherhood, and as a consequence are careless and neglectful of their health in a womanly way. Others who realize the truth, shrink from the "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does away with the necessity for these obnoxious examinations and local treatments. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs that are the vestibule of human life and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the annoyances of the uncomfortable period preceding maternity and makes baby's arrival in the world easy and nearly painless. All the dangers of maternity vanish under its beneficent influence. Its use during the period of antipathy is a guarantee of the little stranger's health and an ample supply of natural nourishment. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits. All medicine stores sell it. Accept no substitute that may be represented as "just as good."

"For ten years I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Caroline King, of New Boston, Scioto Co., Ohio. "I then took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and eleven months later presented my husband with a twelve-pound boy. My health is good."

WHAT IT MEANS.

To An East Liverpool Citizen. No Experiment Required.

People with bad backs are always looking for relief. Plasters helped at first, but their effect lessened with use.

Liniments acted the same way. They didn't reach the cause. The kidneys can't be plastered. Can't be rubbed with liniment. And in most cases the kidneys are the cause.

Doan's Kidney Pills do it all. They right the kidney's action. Do you realize what this means? It means no more backache. If you take Doan's Kidney Pills. No more urinary troubles. It means well kidneys and health. No need to experiment to find relief. Doan's Kidney Pills Cure.

East Liverpool people say so.

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery and a resident of East Liverpool for the past forty-five years, says: "During my campaign experience between the years of 61 and 64, contracted a weakness of the kidneys which bothered me more or less ever since. I had a constant aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism, especially in damp or changeable weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and, in fact, could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies in an endeavor to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing that seemed suited to my case until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief and warding off the last attack. I do not hesitate to give Doan's Kidney Pills my earnest endorsement, believing they will be a great source of benefit to those troubled as I was."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

spect than those of Columbus are at Santo Domingo. They are kept in a carefully guarded chamber or vault in the cathedral, locked with three sets of locks, whose keys are held by the archbishop and two state officials. The regulations require that the chamber can only be opened in the presence of one official of the cathedral and two of the government, and a record is kept of all visitors who are allowed to view the remains. It is only on rare occasions that this is done. In my mind there is not the faintest doubt that the remains which Spain is removing from Havana are those of Don Diego and not of Christopher Columbus.

Pointed.

Study of local peculiarities is one of the first conditions of trade success. It is said that German pins and needles in China have displaced those of better quality made in England because the English persist in putting theirs up in black paper, which to the Chinese stands for ill luck, while the Germans, understanding this, put theirs up in red paper, which has a more cheerful omen. —Boston Journal.

Cheap Trips.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

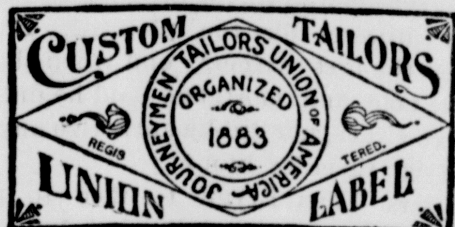

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

WORKING A NEW GAME

It Is a Smooth Scheme, and Has Already Cost Companies Throughout the Country No Little Annoyance—Precautions Taken.

Some men are wearing the uniform of the American soldier to serve the ticket scalpers of Chicago. With a patriotic impulse all the railroads agreed to sell tickets at half rates to soldiers and sailors, as well as to those mustered out of the service and returning to their homes, as those having furloughs or "sick leave." In order to prevent imposition the railroads decided to sell the half rate tickets only to soldiers in uniform. The rule was not strictly adhered to by all the roads, some of them issuing the cheap tickets to persons in civilian dress who carried furloughs or "sick leaves." In a number of cases it was discovered that tickets given to such persons were sold to scalpers. One man in one day secured half rate tickets from four railroads. Then the railroads more rigidly enforced the rule that the half rate tickets should be issued only to soldiers in uniform. For a time it seemed as if this plan was preventing the scalpers from getting the tickets, but later tests made by detectives of the Central and Western Passenger associations showed that in some way the scalpers were continuing to get in large numbers the tickets sold presumably only to soldiers and sailors.

Yesterday one of the detectives of the Central Passenger association discovered how the scalpers were getting their tickets. A man wearing the uniform of a soldier, minus the letters and figures to indicate to which company and regiment he belonged, went to the ticket office of the Baltimore and Ohio and secured a half-rate ticket to Philadelphia. Then he went to the Erie office and got a ticket to New York. At the Wabash office he obtained a ticket to Buffalo. Then he tried the western lines. From one he secured a ticket to St. Paul, from another a ticket to Lincoln, Neb., and from a third a ticket to Kansas City, all, of course, at half rate.

The detective followed the man in soldier's clothes on his rounds, which ended in an office building on Dearborn street, near Van Buren. Presently out of the office the "soldier" entered came a man who went direct to a scalper's office on Clark street. Later the detective went there and bought one of the tickets which had been given at half-rate to the soldier an hour or two before.

Anybody who tries to travel on one of the tickets issued yesterday on account of a soldier will be likely to pay full fare and lose the money he paid the scalper. All the railroads issued special instructions to their gatemen and conductors to look out for the tickets.

Heretofore most of the railroads have simply stamped the word "special" on the tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers and sailors, and it was the easiest thing for brokers to handle them. Precautions will be taken by all the railroads to protect themselves from further impositions by the agents of the brokers, whether or not they have the right to wear the uniform of soldiers or sailors. Secretary Fort, of the Central Passenger association, yesterday notified all the eastern lines of the latest trick of the scalpers, and suggested that hereafter all tickets issued at half-rates on account of soldiers or sailors be plainly stamped, "Good only for soldier or sailor in uniform." He also suggested that beginning next Monday all applicants for reduced rates on the ground that they are soldiers or sailors upon sick leave or furlough be referred to the headquarters of the Central Passenger association, and the tickets issued only to holders of certificates signed by the commissioner of the association. Chairman Caldwell has taken steps to protect the lines of the Western Passenger association—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Low Rates For Conclave

Elaborate arrangements are completed for the Knights Templar conclave at Pittsburgh in October. You may enjoy it all by going on low rate tickets to be sold over Pennsylvania lines Oct. 8 to 13, inclusive. After taking in the sights and festivities, interesting side trips may be made from Pittsburgh at small cost by depositing return coupon of Pittsburgh ticket with joint agent at that place. For particulars apply to nearest Pennsylvania line ticket agent, or address J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent, Pittsburgh, Pa.

EXPANSION SATISFIED.

"The expansion spirit is dying out," say our looking-backward friends, and it is true. The demand for expansion is dying out because the demand has been reasonably satisfied. The Spaniards are evacuating Porto Rico and the Stars and Stripes will go up never to come down. Cuba will enjoy home rule tentatively under the suzerainty of this country, which means that we are assured of first-rate trade relations with that wonderful island, intrinsically valuable and valuable beyond price on account of their strategic value. Here will be the shipping yards and the warehouses in which goods of this country will be stored with which to supply the Asiatic trade. Originally the expansionists sought only to annex these islands because they were the only ones that could be annexed peacefully. When the flag was finally raised in Honolulu the ambition of many an annexationist was gratified.

The war coming on with Spain, however, gave us opportunities to plant our flag and open up a route for our commerce elsewhere, and the island of Guam in the Ladrone group was seized, which, with Manila and a coaling station yet to be selected in the Caroline group, will give this country access to the markets of the east. There is reason to believe, therefore, that the expansion idea is not so strong as it used to be. The appetite of the expansionists is sated. When a boy feasts for an hour or so on roast turkey and tops it off with a dish of plum pudding it may be truthfully said that his desire to eat has been materially lessened, and for the same reason may it truthfully be said that the expansion spirit is dying out.

The time may come when this country will find use for the Bermudas, the Barbadoes, Jamaica, Santo Domingo and other nearby islands, or, perhaps, Australia, Ceylon, Borneo, Sumatra and contiguous desirable locations, in which case new issues will arise; but for the present, the expansion spirit is pretty well satisfied because the demands and necessities of the nation along the lines of commercial progress, as suggested by common sense, have been amply satisfied or are in a fair way of being satisfied.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal (Dem.).

Let the Party Save What It Has Won.

It is no partisan boast, but plain political narrative, which credits the Republican party with having crowded into the year and a half of the McKinley administration more diverse political accomplishment and more of national regeneration than any previous decade of the country's history can reveal. That nothing of this marvelous achievement shall be undone, that no slip backward into the fearful quagmire into which the latest Democratic charioteer left stalled to the hubs the wheels of state shall befall, and moreover, that such achievement shall continue until the great questions of foreign and domestic affairs now in train toward settlement shall be disposed of, is certainly the first need of the great republic, for whose future the bravest of us had doubts in the so recent past, and of which the weakest of us are so proudly assured today. That is the issue—to keep our country as it is; to keep our country from what it was; to keep those hands shifting the helm and trimming the sails which have ever taken the ship of state fearlessly out upon the open and joyous sea; to keep those hands from wheel and sheet that have twice within a generation—the last time only yesterday—more than grazed the keel upon the lee-shore rocks of disunion, and, again, dishonor.—New York Press (Rep.).

What Democracy Stood For In Congress.

If the silver Democratic members of congress raised the point that there was no necessity for additional revenue we never heard it. What they did contend for was an issue of paper money, rather than an issue of bonds. They contended then, and the free silver papers throughout the country have contended since, that it would have been a great blessing to the country if the government had put more greenbacks in circulation. It was not the debt that they complained of, but the character of the debt. In a spirit of flatism they demanded more fiat money, and argued that if the war should result in the issuance of more greenbacks it would be a blessing to the people. It was not we say, in a spirit of economy but in a spirit of free silver flatism that the silver forces in congress fought the bond issue and advocated an issue of treasury notes instead.—Richmond Times (Dem.).

VITAL QUESTION FOR VOTERS.

"The question before the people is simply this: Is William McKinley to stand alone at one end of the avenue, with a hostile house and a hostile senate at the other, or are we to stay up the arms of that brave, gallant, wise, patriotic president and give him at the other end of the avenue not only a house of representatives but a senate that will help him to solve these problems?"—Speech of Hon. Sen. E. Payne at New York Republican State Convention.

Rubber Band For Headache.

"Departmental headaches are a distinct malady," remarked a well known physician to a reporter, "and it is somewhat of a surprise how many sufferers there are among department clerks from this trouble. The thing seems to grow among them, and they have their headaches as regularly as they have their work."

A simple remedy which is worth trying is to put a rubber band around the head just above the ears. The band should not be tight enough to stop the circulation of the blood. The band known as the string band is generally sufficiently heavy for the purpose. It should be applied just as soon as it is noticed that the headache is setting in and taken off the moment the pain ceases. In many cases the rubber band works nicely, though it affords no relief when the headache is the result of stomach troubles or biliousness.

"I find also that a rubber band twisted about a toe between the corn and the foot is a handy remedy to stop the pain from a jumping corn. Corns are very liable to be troublesome when there is much humidity in the atmosphere. The rubber band seems to temporarily quiet the nerves in the toe, and in this way stop the pain. As in the case of a band around the head, the pressure should not be tight enough to stop the circulation of the blood."—Washington Star.

Argelander's Wit.

As Hansen was Germany's greatest master in mathematical astronomy, so was the venerable Argelander in the observational side of the science, says Professor Simon Newcomb in The Atlantic. He was of the same age as the newly crowned emperor, and the two were playmates at the time Germany was being overrun by the armies of Napoleon. He was held in love and respect by the entire generation of young astronomers, both Germans and foreigners, many of whom were proud to have had him as their preceptor. Among these was Dr. E. A. Gould, who frequently related a story of the astronomer's wit. When with him as a student, he was beardless and had a good head of hair. Returning some years later, he had become bald, but had made up for it by having a full long beard. He entered Argelander's study unannounced. The astronomer looked at him with some surprise, not at first recognizing him.

"Do you not know me, Herr Professor?"

A Trio of Bulls.

The following remark is by a highland clergyman. In his sermon preached in a small church in Strathspey, after

inveighing against slothfulness, he said in closing, "Do you think Adam and Eve went about the garden of Eden with their hands in their pockets?"

Last year, in the north of Ireland, the following came under my observation. In a hotel the porter, for my information and dutifully in furtherance of the interests of his employers, remarked, "If you want a drive, sir, you needn't go out of the hotel," meaning, of course, that carriages formed part of the establishment. Another bull was in a conversation overheard between two workmen. One put the question, "Were you acquainted with So-and-so?" to which the reply was, "No; he was dead before I knew him."

An Irish friend of mine was describing a dinner party he had been at. It was a great success, as two noted talkers were present, each of whom was talking so fast that neither could get in a word.—Spectator.

Tobacco In England.

In regard to the suggestion which is sometimes made that one way to relieve agricultural depression in this country would be for the government to allow and even to encourage the growth of tobacco, it may be interesting to note how long the prohibition has lasted and how sternly it has been enforced. This may be gathered from the following extract:

"Cornet Wakefield with a party of horse marching out of Gloucester upon the last of July to Winchcombe and Cheltenham to destroy the Tobacco planted in these parts, the Country did rise against them in a great body, to the number of 5 or 600, giving them very reviling and threatening speeches, even to kill them horse and man, if that he and his Soldiers did come on, insomuch that the tumult being so great, he was constrained to draw off and nothing more done" (Mercurius Politicus, 29 July-5 Aug., 1658).—Notes and Queries.

McKinley Follows Jefferson's Footsteps.

We are now satisfied that in the matter of the Philippines Mr. McKinley will do exactly what Jefferson would have done under the same circumstances, and we congratulate the country on the possession of a president who, at least in this, is in line with the greatest of all Democrats, living or dead.—Florida Times-Union (Dem.).

ROCKEFELLER FIRM.

Monnett.

SAID HE HADN'T THE POWER.

The Other Trustees, He Declared, Would
Have to Give Him the Authority to Produce Them--Told More of Distribution of Earnings of D. fendant Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The contempt
proceedings of the state of Ohio against
the officers of the Standard Oil trust
were resumed. John D. Rockefeller,
president of the company, took the chair again. The second day's session was held in a parlor of the New Amsterdam hotel.

Attorney General G. S. Monnett of Ohio was assisted by W. L. Flagg of this city and by E. B. Kinkaid of Ohio.
Mr. Rockefeller had with him as counsel Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland and M.
F. Elliott of this city.

Lawyer Kinkaid resumed the examination of Mr. Rockefeller. He wanted to know more about the distribution of earnings of the defendant company.

Mr. Rockefeller said that on March 17, 1892, $3,219,540 in earnings were distributed in accordance with the order of the Ohio court that the trust be dissolved.

Although Mr. Rockefeller said the day before that the books of the company were at the service of the commission, he stated that he could not show the books of the corporation without an order from the other trustees.

Mr. Rockefeller said the following
were the trustees of the liquidating
trust on Nov. 9, 1897: John D. Rockefeller of New York, Frank Rockefeller of Cleveland, F. B. Squire of Cleveland, Martin Snider of New York and
A. M. McGregor of New York.

"How did the defendant company happen to distribute $3,219,540?" was asked Mr. Rockefeller.

"The Ohio company sold its tank cars
to the trust for $3,500,000, and it considered that $3,219,540 could safely be distributed, and did so."

"What are the methods of the Standard Oil company of Ohio since the dissolution of the trust?"

by individual holders who received
their dividends directly from the companies. The dividends accruing to the three sevenths of the stock in the hands
of the liquidating trustees were paid
back into their respective companies
after deducting the office and running expenses of the liquidating trustees.

MRS. GEORGE HELD.

Must Answer to the Common Pleas Court
at Canton, Accused of Murder.

CANTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. George was held to answer to common pleas court
at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing, and her case will be investigated by the next grand jury.

The presiding justice of the peace, in passing on the case, said there was sufficient circumstantial evidence connecting Mrs. George with the crime to justify holding her for the investigation of the higher courts. She is held on the charge of murder in the first degree and cannot be admitted to bail.

Pennsylvania Railroad Surgeons.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—The Association of Surgeons of the Pennsylvania company convention has elected the following officers: President, Dr. Joseph R. Hobson of Cleveland; secretary and treasurer, Dr. George C. Stemen, Fort Wayne, Ind.; first vice president, Dr.
J. S. Hunt, Chicago; second vice president, Dr. D. H. Lewis, Washington, Pa.

Rockefeller's Proposed Charity.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—It is announced that John D. Rockefeller will furnish funds to purchase the ground and to build a large social settlement house in the Italian district of this city.

BATTLESHIPS SAILED.

Oregon and Iowa Started From New York Under Sealed Orders.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The battleships Oregon and Iowa have sailed with sealed orders from Washington. There has been considerable speculation as to the destination of the battleships. It was at first stated they would proceed direct to Manila, but subsequent reports throw some doubt on this, and Honolulu may be their objective point, from whence they may proceed to Manila to strengthen Admiral Dewey's position.

Death Rate at Dawson.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13.—Among the arrivals from the north on the steamer City of Topeka were Mrs. Roswell D. Huchcock and Miss Edith M.
Van Buren, both prominent in New York society, who went to the Klondike on a pleasure trip. Mrs. Huchcock says when she left Dawson the death rate averaged five a day.

THE INDIANS QUIETED.

Agreed to Surrender When Father Aloysius and Others of the Peace Party Saw Them.

WALKER, Minn., Oct. 13.—The Bear Island or Pillager Indians will surrender and war has been averted. It only remains for the terms to be arranged before the hostiles will come into the agency.

Father Aloysius Homanutz, Gus Benaulieu and Chief Gay-Gwa-Che-Way-Bimang, the three peace commissioners, arranged the matter.
